Hundreds in attendance at farm during reported odor problems

By DANIEL R. CHALMERS

TEWKSBURY - At the September 16 Board of Health meeting, Krochmal Farm representatives responded to odor complaints, which had prompted the farm's last-minute addition to the meeting's agenda. Lou-Ann Clement, the Director of Public Health, noted that she had received several emails and phone calls regarding odors.

Speaking on behalf of the farm, Jennifer Nagle said that they had been requested to appear during the busiest time of their year, and as such felt it fair to voice their concerns as well. "We're doing everything we can," Nagle said.

Board of Health Chairman Ralph McHatton stated that he desired open dialogue, and that the only way to address odors.

Butters Farm on National Register

By JAYNE W. MILLER

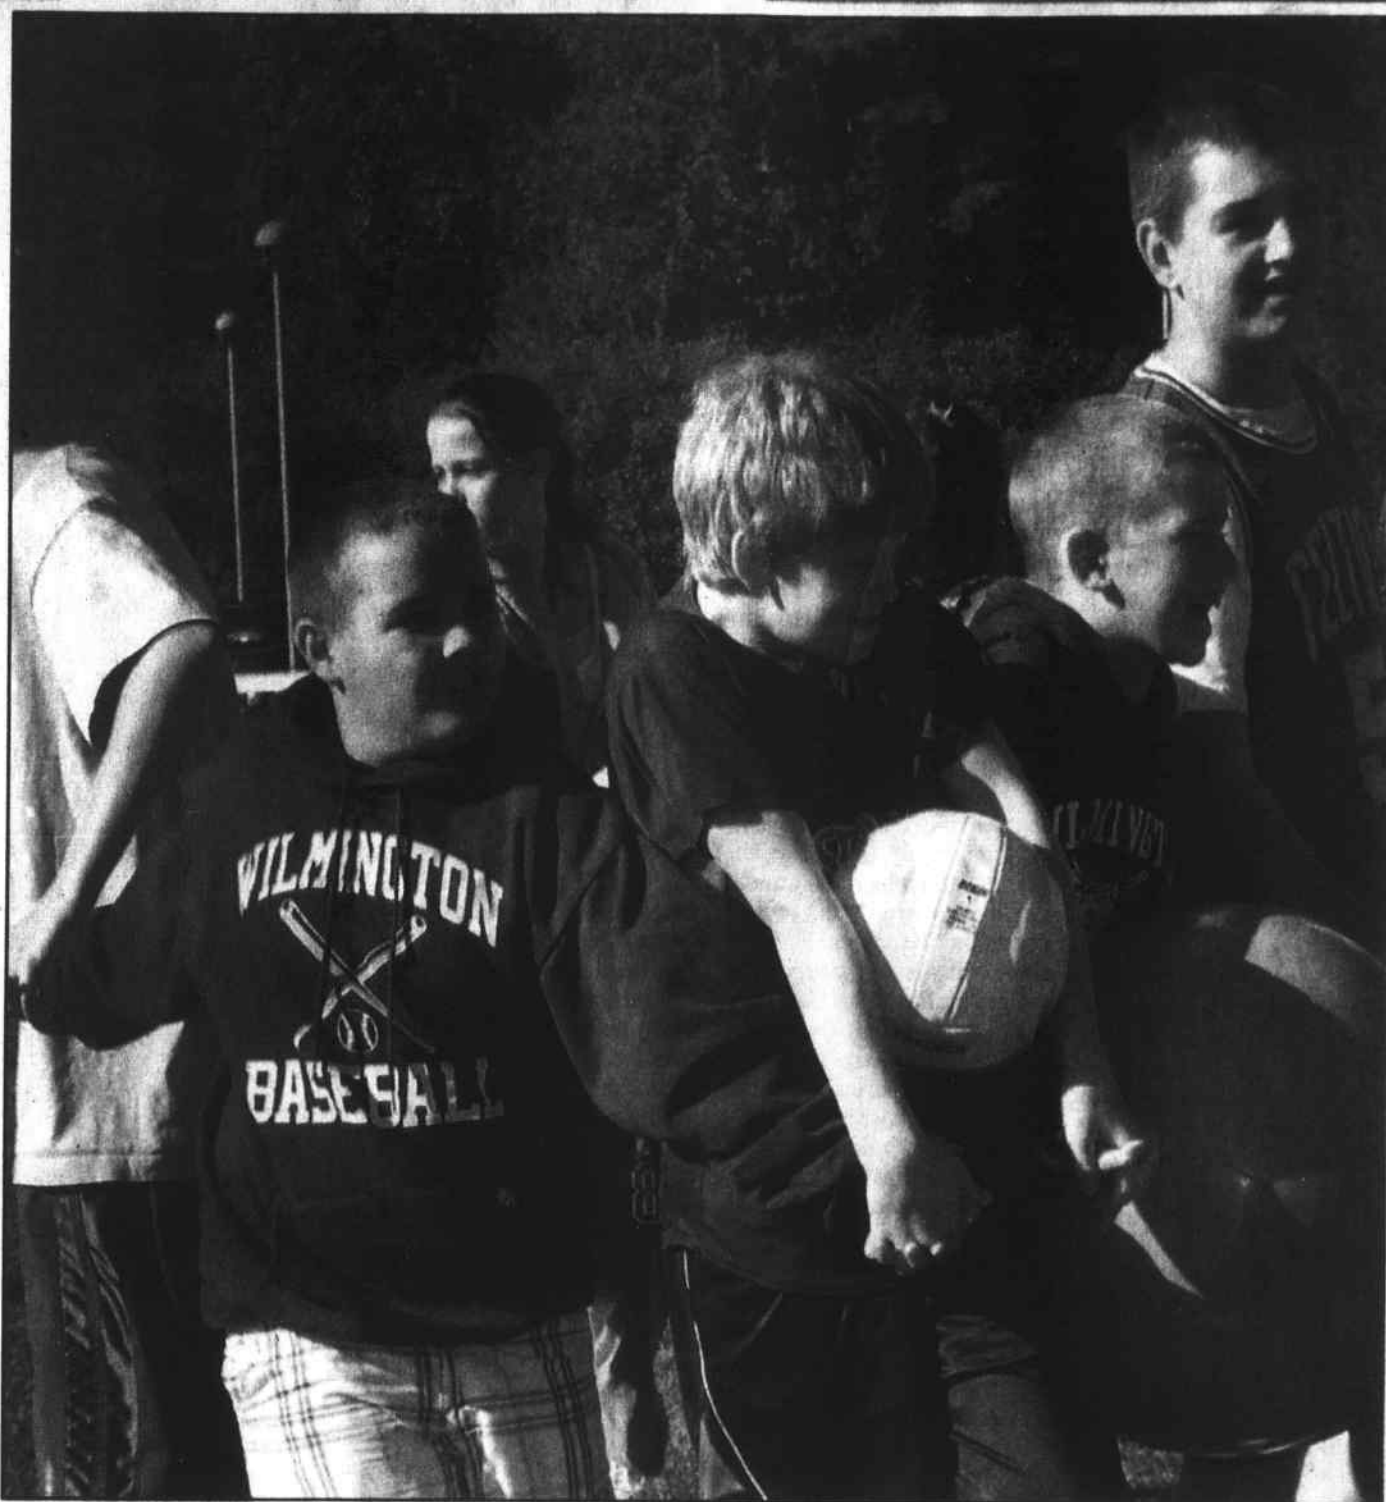

WILMINGTON - The Butters Farm was officially placed on the National Register of Historic Places on July 6, 2010, more than twenty years after first being proposed. After acquiring the property in 2007, the town renewed its efforts by hiring an architectural historian and the rest, as they say, is history.

"The Wilmington Historical Commission is very excited to receive this honor for the Butters Farmhouse. We are delighted to see it honored as the very special property that it is," said Carolyn Harris, Chair of the Wilmington Historical Commission. "We are grateful for the support of the town of Wilmington in recognizing this historic treasure."

MCAS results mixed

Wilmington continues to struggle in certain subgroups, but overall results strong

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Weeks of preparation and days of test-taking are done for 2010 and the scores are in for Wilmington's students, parents and educators to analyze. Overall Wilmington schools maintain a Very High performance rating for English Language Arts (ELA), the highest available rating, and a High rating in Math. While there was some movement both up and down the spectrum, Wilmington remains a Level 2 district without any status under the No Child Left Behind Act.

The district, as a whole, saw a decline in ELA scores for grades three to five in the aggregate. The district continues to struggle with Special Education subgroups, continuing not to meet

Adequate Yearly Progress at grades three to five and grades six to eight in ELA. Those children that are in the low-income levels also struggle with ELA in the middle school years. In math, middle school students in the White and low-income subgroups also did not achieve the Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) threshold. However, there is much good news.

The district improved mathematics in the aggregate for grades three to five as well as improved ELA subgroups in grades nine through twelve. The town remains with "No Status" under No Child Left Behind, a good place to be.

"With a couple of exceptions, I am generally pleased with our results, but we all

New project lays cornerstone for revitalized center

Mixed use housing and business will bring foot traffic

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - What years ago was a unique retail offering of hardware and liquor sales will soon be the cornerstone of a revitalized town center as a new mixed-use building comes to fruition.

Six years ago Northeastern Development obtained permits on a project destined for the former Church Street Hardware location at the junction of Route 38 and Route 62. Today that project is just getting off the ground. Joe Langone of Northeast Development spoke to the Crier this week about the mixed-use project.

The building will include eight apartments, all one-bedroom and 900 square

A look back at Wilmington of yesteryear...

Church St. Hardware

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - Wilmington lost an institution when Church Street Hardware burned nearly 20 years ago.

It was the oldest hardware store in town, a continuation of the business that had been Schamiel Macintosh's blacksmith shop, which burned in 1903. Macintosh built the hardware store and ran it for more than 30 years. He sold it to Frank Griffin, Sr. sometime before World War II. The Griffins, Frank Sr. and then Frankie, ran the store for nearly 40 years.

There was an interesting mix of products. On the left side of the store was the hardware; on the right was the hard liquor. And straight ahead, next to the counter, was the beer cooler.

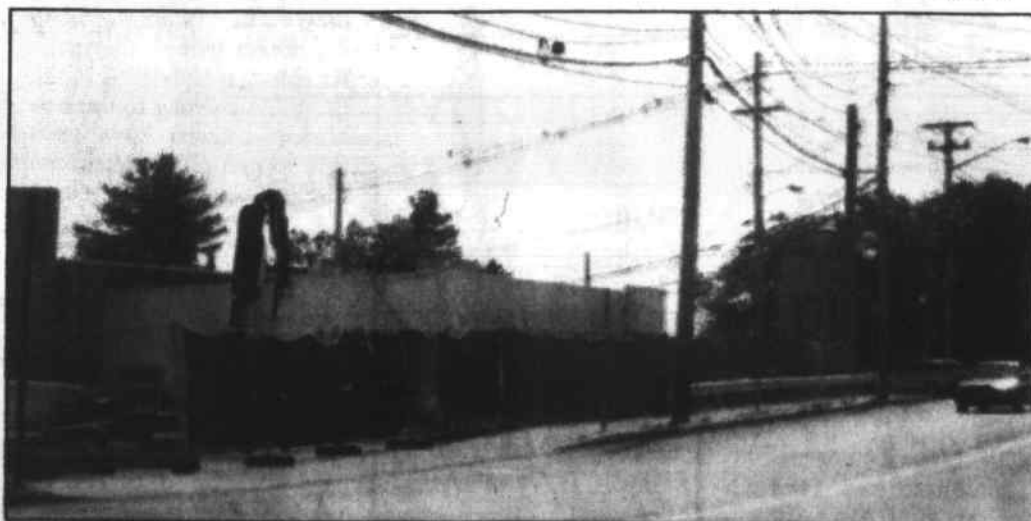

Griffin obtained a liquor license in 1941. There were three licenses in "the Square," each in a store with other business. The drug store also had a license, as did Altman's meat market. The hardware store did a good business in spirits. There was one builder who would go to the store every Friday afternoon for a case of beer for the crew. For tax purposes, it was written up as paint thinner.

A youngster could go into the store for a small hardware item. Frankie Griffin would welcome him by name and say, "What can we do for you?" He'd know exactly where to find any item, probably in a wall of small drawers across the back of the hardware section. And he'd always round the price down. He knew how to make people feel welcome in his store.

Frankie was a large, boisterous fellow, and the stories about him are legend, like the time he picked up a police stand and threw it in a pond. This was a large, heavy stand complaints is through discussion. He said that the reasoning behind calling Krochmal Farm to the meeting was to provide an opportunity to respond to the complaints.

Krochmal responds to complaints

Lists of complaints have had names and addresses redacted from it, which Nagle stated made it difficult to determine the validity of the complaints, as those investigating them had no one speak with nor a location to follow up on.

Nagle also noted a list of other "odor offenders" in town, including 47 lift stations in Tewksbury alone, including ten that are located within two miles of Krochmal Farm. She also noted that Charles River Laboratories, which has facilities for animal-based biomedical research, has not been discussed as a possible source for unpleasant odors. She also stated that it is located between exits 41 and 42 on I-93, often the epicenter for complaints. She questioned whether or not anything had been done to determine the manner or frequency of maintenance of these locations.

Additionally, Nagle stated that there are other septic pump stations as well as fields - not owned by the farm - that utilize fertilizer. Nagle said that none of these locations are considered when odor complaints are received, and, instead, all odor-related complaints are blamed on the farm. Nagle also attested to following up on a number of complaints only to find dead skunks on the street.

Nagle appealed to assistance from those who are reporting odor issues, asking them to also call the farm directly. She added, "We can't help anybody if we don't know about it." She asked the Board to please ask complainants to call the farm so that they can work to rectify any problems. She said that callers would not need to give their names.

McHatton said that some of those who might make a complaint could possibly fear retribution or not have the courage to call the Farm. He added that, given the option, not everyone who might make a complaint would also call the farm.

Nagle noted that Krochmal Farm typically doesn't receive notice of odor complaints until quite a while after they occur, making working to mitigate them speedily a challenge. Clement said, "I am trying really hard to make sure that you are getting them."

Nagle volunteered to personally carry a dedicated cell phone twenty-four hours a day to address and fix complaints. She said that they have no objections to people calling the Board of Health, but that they would appreciate a call to farm as well, so that issues can be mitigated and investigated promptly.

John Michael Cave, owner of Krochmal Farm, stated that he didn't think everyone was aware of the alternate places from which the smells could emanate. "It's not a secret that Krochmal Farm is there. It's not a secret that we get blamed," he said. He also pointed out that only negative comments and complaints are reported, not anything that is positive.

Nagle also addressed the complaints that had come in over the weekend, stating that on the Sunday in question, there had been hundreds of people visiting for the entire day, and that not one person had made any derogatory comments about odors. Additionally, Boston Children's Hospital Blood Mobile was in attendance, and had only positive things to say, and even requested to conduct another blood drive at the farm.

According to Nagle, WBZ Channel 4 had a reporter stationed at the farm for nearly six hours, and the reporter arrived after only half-an-hour of notice. The reporter, Nagle said, noted only normal farm smells. Nagle stated that it would have been impossible to mask an odor that prompted such strong-worded complaints in less than thirty minutes, and contain it for six hours.

Resident Richard Maggio spoke to the Board and stated that he would like clarification as to whether or not the law required names and addresses to be included in records requests for complaints, and added that if the law required them to be included, then they should be. Clement had noted earlier that, on the advice of Town Counsel Charles Zaroulis, the names and addresses had been withheld when providing the records of complaints to the farm.

Nagle stressed that Krochmal Farm needs the Board of Health to work with them, and said that the Farm is working well within the confines of the Site Agreement, and that they have no intention of disregarding it. The Farm representatives expressed dissatisfaction with being blamed for every odor complaint, validated or not. "We're just trying to defend ourselves a little bit," Nagle said.

McHatton stated that he hoped the hearing had been helpful to all.

where an officer could stand while directing traffic.

Occasionally he'd say to one of his employees, "Let's go for a cup of coffee." This wouldn't be a simple trip around the corner to Huntley's Lunch. They'd get in his car and end up in New York City, or wherever Frankie felt like going.

Some of the people who worked for Frankie included Bob Lynch, Bill Doyle, Del Hunter, Bozo McHugh and Daisy Sciarappa.

There are stories about

Frankie's poker games on Friday nights in the basement of the store. After the card game, sometimes he'd load everyone into his Cadillac and head for Logan Airport. They'd stagger into the terminal and Frankie would buy tickets for everyone on the next plane to... wherever. In the morning, he'd have a great laugh while his friends were calling home, trying to explain to their wives why they were in New York or Philadelphia.

For many years, the Wilmington Police station was in the lower level of the building. The hardware store entrance was at the top of the hill. Down the street and down the hill was the entrance to the police station. That station was used until 1954, when the town built a combination police and fire station, in the building that now houses the Public Buildings Dept between the Post Office and the Masonic Lodge.

Being the landlord to the police was a special status, and Frankie was friends with most of the cops in town. Long after the police were in the station on Adelaide Street, the relationship remained. One former officer told of a night about 1963 when Frankie came into the station. It was about 2:00 a.m., and Frankie had two large bags of Chinese food. He set the bags down, walked over to the desk, picked up the microphone with one hand and swept the desk clean with the other arm. The log book and all the papers fell to the floor. The rookie cop on desk duty sat there aghast, not knowing what to do.

Frankie keyed the microphone and said, "Wilmington to cars, return to the station. We've got some Chinese food to take care of."

Soon a call came back from Tewksbury, which shared the police frequency with Wilmington and Billerica. "That you, Frankie? Got enough for us?"

"Sure, come on down!" replied Frankie.

Billerica chimed in, too. Pretty soon, there were about eight cruisers from three towns in front of the station, with everyone inside feasting on Chinese food.

One day in the mid-1970's, Frankie Griffin called Bill Doyle from Florida. He announced that he wasn't going to return to the store, and asked if Doyle wanted to buy it. The next day, Doyle accepted.

The Doyles ran the store for about 12 years. Bill told of a call from Roy McClanahan, superintendent of public buildings for the town. He wanted a price on 500 pounds of grass seed. Doyle called his supplier in Arlington and got prices on three or four grades of seed. He called McClanahan back that afternoon and quoted the prices. McClanahan chose a middle grade and gave him the order. When could he get it?

Doyle called the supplier, placed the order and asked about delivery. He was told it would be there as soon as possible.

The next morning, Bill walked over the Burlington Avenue bridge at 7:00 a.m. on his way to the store. There was a man sitting on the front step of the store. Bill figured it was someone wanting to buy a nip, the breakfast of champions. No, it was a truck driver with 500 pounds of grass seed. "Where do you want it?"

Doyle said that apparently word of the prompt service spread through the town departments. Business with the town grew, not spectacularly, but consistently.

The old police station was used as a storeroom for pipe. On the floor was a trap door to the basement. Doyle said that if you lifted up the door, the bottom was painted, "Merry Christmas," a message to prisoners in the old police lockup.

Doyle sold the store to Joe Langone and Pete Pellerin in 1987. Pellerin, a house painter, wanted to run it as a paint and paper store. The liquor license was sold and the hardware section closed out. Later, the store was leased to a decorating business. It burned to the ground in a late-night fire on October 29, 1992.

know that most of us will end up being underperforming schools with the system they have in place," said Superintendent Joanne Benton in a statement to the Crier. "According to the law, school districts have until 2014 to pull all students into the top two scoring levels of MCAS. We are required to demonstrate a specific amount of progress toward the goal each year. As you know we are not only assessed on our overall numbers, but also measured according to the achievements and progress of subgroups based on race, income, special needs, et cetera. It is unrealistic."

The 2014 date is particularly onerous to Benton, who adds,

"I think we all recognize that the deadline is admirable, but impractical. I think we will be looking at a new measure of proficiency. They are talking about whether students are 'college- and career-ready' upon graduation from high school. Now this makes more sense to me. I continue to believe that MCAS is just one measure of a student's success in school."

AYP measures district and school progress toward annual performance targets in ELA and Math. Those that fail to meet their AYP targets in ELA and Math in the aggregate or for any of their subgroups for two or more consecutive years receive an accountability status and are required to take steps to focus efforts on improving student performance. Alternately, schools and districts are removed from the list when they make their targets for two consecutive years.

Looking at individual schools the North Intermediate School received an Improvement Year 1 but the West Intermediate School had no status. The Shawsheen Elementary School found itself in ELA Year One. The Woburn Street School also received No Status, likewise Wilmington High School.

Wilmington Middle School continues to struggle with AYP. In ELA the school was identified in need of corrective action for subgroups. Additionally, the Mathematics program is now in Restructuring Year 1.

TIPS GUARD AGAINST INFLATION

How much is in your retirement account today? What will it be worth in 10 or 20 years? One option guaranteed to keep up with rising prices is Treasury inflation-protected securities-TIPS. These offer a relatively low-percentage return, but the principal is guaranteed to keep up with inflation and the interest is figured on each year's inflated principal (assuming inflation, not deflation). When the securities mature, the buyer is guaranteed either the inflation-adjusted principal or the original face value of the bond, whichever is higher.

Because TIPS are not tax-efficient - growth and earnings are taxable each year - they are ideal for a tax-deferred account. They can be bought directly from the government with no extra fees at www.treasurydirect.gov, or on the secondary market through your broker. TIPS mutual funds may be subject to price fluctuations.

Letter to the editor

Letters to the editor

Miceli thanks supporters

Dear Editor,
I want to thank the voters of Tewksbury and Wilmington for giving me the top vote on the ballot in those precincts that make up the 19th Middlesex District.
I would also like to thank all those people who worked on my campaign and all those who have our signs on their lawns and bumper stickers on their cars.

I hope you will vote for me in the General Election on November 2. See you at the polls.

Your friend,
State Representative,
Jim Miceli

Marchese thanks supporters

Dear Editor,
I would like to take a moment to thank the citizens of Wilmington and Tewksbury for coming out to vote in last week's Primary Election. In our current time with our soldiers, sailors and marines actively defending our freedoms with their very lives, it is more important than ever to exercise our right to vote. The only way to be part of our democratic process is to study the issues and the candidates and elect those who will best represent our needs, wishes and values to govern. On November 2, please exercise this precious right again - it is the greatest privilege bestowed upon us as American Citizens.

Thank you,
Mario Marchese
Candidate for State Representative
19th Middlesex District
Wilmington - Tewksbury

Thank you, Tewksbury

Dear Editor,
Being a candidate for State Senate during these transformative times was an incredible experience. I learned a great deal about Tewksbury, and the truly great people that make up the 2nd Essex & Middlesex State Senate district. I often said during the campaign that despite socioeconomic diversity, we - Andover, Lawrence, Tewksbury, and Dracut - share more in common than we differ on. We all want safe streets, good schools, and vibrant communities in which to live, work, and raise our families. We all want good government - and we expect a responsive government.

There are so many people I wish to thank for their help during our campaign - people who urged me to run, volunteered for and supported our campaign, welcomed me into their homes, provided advice and encouragement, and those who took the time to vote on September 14th. While campaigning, I met some people who are angry with government, and others have given up hope that government will ever change or be more responsive. Overall though most people, like myself, still believe that government can and should make a positive difference in people's lives.

Though the results were not what I hoped for, the experience of the campaign exceeded my expectations. I knew it before, but I want to say it again: there is a lot that is done well in our cities and towns, most of it because of the strength of active and engaged citizens. We all need to keep the spirit of civic participation alive, now more than ever.

A sincere and heartfelt thank you to all.

Respectfully,
Debbie Silberstein

Battle to be an individual

To the Editor,
My name is Marc Piro, and I'm a junior at Wilmington High School. Recently, I have run into much conflict due to my resistance to standing up for the Pledge of Allegiance every day. Many teachers have been lecturing me, and arguing with me about it for the last two years. I feel like sometimes people forget what Freedom really means. I have uncountable reasons for which to not stand, and none of them have anything to do with disrespecting America. They tell me I'm disrespecting my classmates, and just to spite my concerned teachers. I asked around my class. Nobody had a problem with me not standing—in fact, I was praised for having the valor to not stand. In other high schools from different parts of this country, the pledge is not even part of a morning routine. It isn't recited. As much as I despise the thought of behaving like a whiny teenager, I feel that this situation has much substance. I guess it's a battle to be an individual.

Sincerely,
Marc Piro Jr.
Wilmington

It's not 'over my head'

Dear Editor,
I in turn would like to respond to Mr. McCoy's letter to the editor that appeared in the paper September 8, 2010. For Mr. McCoy to say that the citizens of this town were not shunned by the local administration and Board of Selectman when we came forward with claims that the water supply was not being tested properly for chemicals associated with the Olin Chemical plume, that the Maple Meadow Landfill was a Trojan horse for profit not a landfill "closure," and that the increase in childhood cancer may (emphasis on may) be linked to environmental factors, is ABSOLUTELY NOT TRUE! He asks for dates and data. Here is some data; he can look up the dates himself. I am sure there is record in the Crier and WCTV.

In fact, and this is fact, it was the citizens of the town that forced the Selectmen at the time to hire an environmental consultant, GEO-Insight. Why? Because the "Town" did not believe us. I would like to recall to Mr. McCoy a conversation we had before I was on the Board of Selectmen. A conversation which I explained the concerns some of us had about the water supply testing, the problems with the Maple Meadow Landfill project, and the administration's lack of acknowledgment. Mr. McCoy pretty much told me that he did not pretend to know this stuff, that he admits it is over his head, and that is why he relies on the professionals. Sound familiar? I responded that the professionals are wrong, they are not always right and we did not have any professionals looking out for our interests. He once again confirmed his position.

After that conversation our group decided to take more aggressive actions. How do you fight that attitude? Mind you many of us had already been serving on several committees, including one with DEP and the Wilmington health agent, as a "liaison group" to deal with some of the major contamination issues. We decided if our own "Town" would not believe us then we had to find a way to hire an environmental consultant, a professional, maybe they would believe them. So the next time Olin came in with the DEP to tell our Board of Selectmen the water was fine, it passed all water quality tests, we gathered our group together and strongly and publicly dissented. This was not just some random act. There was a reason why we did what we did and it was not because the Board of Selectmen and the "Town" supported us. In fact I gave the Board of Selectmen an ultimatum, either they hire an environmental consultant or I would bring it to the people through town meeting, even if I had to call a special town meeting. I think they knew I would.

The Board soon after formed the Community Advisory Panel that interviewed candidates to review some of these issues, to which I served. Unfortunately I did have to resign as a voting member when I was elected to the Board of Selectmen. According to the Town Manager I could not hold both positions so I remained as a representative of the Board of Selectmen. It is a wonder how Mr. Marchese was elected to the School Committee and then re-appointed to the Conservation Commission as a voting member when I had to resign from the CAP and Frank West had to resign from the Historical Society. That's embarrassing. Amazing how only some people have to follow the rules.

Tb Mr. McCoy's credit, he did support these issues as the political tides turned. Typical, but none-the-less appreciated. The point in my letter was that Jim Miceli always supported us from the beginning. We did not have to storm the State House or his office. That is the kind of representation I want, the kind we all deserve.

Oh, and just for the record, two more things: We were right and I would not call my advocacy tunnel vision, per se. Environmental issues are just not "over my head." I get the connection between the environment, our health, our economy, and well being. What good is property values if you have a child sick with cancer? Nothing is better for property and tax values than a community that protects public health, the environment and quality of life. If Mr. McCoy wants to call that "tunnel vision," I stand as accused.

I rest my case.

Whose Job is it anyway?

Letter to Editor:

I believe that the job of representing the people of a district on Beacon Hill is a very important job, that needs to be done by a person who can understand what those people are going through, and how they feel and think.

The question that comes to mind is whose job is this anyway? Does it belong to someone because they have sat there for a long time? Or does it belong to the person who will best represent the people in that district, because he is one.

I liken this to going to a restaurant. If you like the restaurant, you go there often. Does that mean you always have the same dish over and over? Maybe, if it is that good. But what if it was good 33 years ago, and you have not seen it get much different? Is it still the only thing you want to have? And this is no restaurant. It is the prison mess hall. We have very few choices, and only one day a year, on election day, to express them.

I live in Wilmington and support Mario Marchese, so much so that I registered Republican for the first time in 20+ years, having always previously been unenrolled.

I read an advertisement for Jim Miceli. It looks good, and I have no real gripe with him, but got to thinking, just how long does it take to do a thing? His ad says he is against raising taxes. That is great, as I am against that too. But, he has been there for 33 years, and the taxes just keep going up. The spending is out of control, and as a citizen in Massachusetts, I am the 2nd most in debt in the nation. That's just sad.

I also saw an article in the newspaper recently there have been complaints about signs placed at non-profit facilities in Tewksbury, and in violation of Wilmington's Bylaws. The article quoted Miceli as saying he has a committee that deals with signs, and that he has more important things to spend his time on. The complaints about his signs resulted in action by both the towns of Wilmington and Tewksbury to remove them, as they were in violation of the law. It seems to me that willfully disregarding the law is pretty important, unless you feel yourself above the laws that affect the rest of us.

This feeds into the entitlement mentality that many who have never worked for a living have. If you have spent 33 years on Beacon Hill, it is easy to lose sight of how the rest of us live. If we do a thing, and the police tell us not to do it again, we normal people are obligated not to do it. If you are among the untouchables on Beacon Hill, you excuse the behavior as saying that you have more important things to do.

As I said, I am a supporter of Mario Marchese. I am also a partially disabled Army Veteran. I am very proud of having enlisted in the US Army, and having served my time.

I was at the 9-11 Memorial Service at the Monument near the Tewksbury Library this past Saturday. Jim Miceli was there, and after the service, he was at the exit, and in order to get out of the Memorial, one had to go past him. He was shaking hands to all, with a word or two, like a receiving line. We have all seen politicians doing this many times. However, when it got to me, (I had no other way out other than past him) and I extended my hand with a simple salutation, he chose not to shake my hand. I was not politicking that day, I was there to support the function, and as a veteran supporting those who have been lost as a result of that attack. To have him pull his hand, and not shake mine, simply because he knows I am a Republican was very petty. It goes to the mentality that he is special, because my tax dollars have been paying him for so long. Politics is not thought of as Public Service anymore, by those who have made a career from it. The arrogance of refusing to shake my hand was too much. At a Memorial Service, I thought it was out of place.

So, what have we gotten for paying his salary (and his retirement, and health care so good we cannot even buy it at any price)? He has done some good stuff over the years, and he says he is for things I agree with, like lower taxes, but I do not see that happening. He has also said he is too busy to comply with the laws about signs, and that he has better things to do than care about that. He is also not inclined to shake the hand of disabled veterans at memorial services, if they are Republicans. He should represent everyone, not only selected people.

Yeah, I am ready for him to move on, with his professional politician buddies. It is time to have a little less ego, a little more results, and some fresh skin in the game.

Thank you,
Karl Ian Sagal

What a day for Zero Waste!

Dear Editor,

Warm thanks are extended to the Tewksbury community for their overwhelming support of our second annual Zero Waste Day event held this past Saturday at the Wynn Middle School. More than 400 cars experienced drive thru donating to 11 non-profit organizations that convened in the Wynn parking lot to graciously accept gently used items.

We are happy to report that each organization filled their donation vehicles to capacity and that the Wish Project of Lowell actually filled three box trucks. Bike Not Bombs collected 73 bikes, with 30 considered to be a great success at charity events. And, the Big Brother Big Sister Foundation reports that we generated 9,275 pounds of electronics recycling. Interestingly, we had 40 visitors from surrounding towns also participate in Tewksbury's ZWD.

Our sincere thanks to the Tewksbury School Department for allowing the use of the Wynn parking lot, to Staples for photocopying donations, to Reid Graphics for poster printing, and to Donna's Donuts for providing breakfast treats to fuel the charity representatives and our volunteer crew. We would also like to recognize Girl Scout Troop 60715 for staffing the MSPCA/Lowell Human Society station, The Mother Connection for staffing the Project Home Again station, and the Dewing PAC for staffing the Got Books station.

With beautiful weather, friendly volunteers, and grateful donors, we couldn't have asked for a better day. After such an outstanding response for two years in a row, you can be sure that Zero Waste Day will become an annual community event. Stay tuned for 2011 ZWD info a t www.tewksburycc.org/zerow asteday.

Around the Dial with WCTV

Introducing WCTV's new Youth-Outreach Coordinator

By Brandon Shorey
Hello Wilmington Community! I am the new WCTV Youth-Outreach Coordinator, Brandon Shorey. One of my areas of concentration will be the Video Explorers program.

Originally, I am from the small town of Waterville, Maine, but now reside in Belmont after deciding on a much needed scenery-change two years ago. As a 2007 graduate from Franklin Pierce University with a double concentration in video production and media studies, I have filmed dozens of athletic events for a variety of occasions including end-ofyear banquets and live television broadcasts.

For the past five summers, I have served as the video director at one of America's most prestigious summer athletic camps: Camp Manitou for Boys. There, I filmed daily events such as instructionals, athletic competitions, field trips, plays, performances, and other activities. At the end of each week, I presented the staff and camp attendees with a half-hour video, accompanied by a short slideshow that documented the many adventures of the preceding days. Aside from my position at Camp Manitou, I have also been out-sourced by a charity called Summer Dreams. This is an excellent program that was developed to provide under-privileged youth of inner-city Boston, with an experience comparable to that of the Camp Manitou.

I am excited about the Explorers program that I have developed! I believe the curriculum is engaging and creative! It is my hope that many students take advantage of the opportunity that is introduced to them by this program. I look forward to working with the Wilmington School System and its community!

Your Two Cents...

I enjoyed the editorial last week. Here's a thought: how about when Clerk Magistrates and judges make decisions resulting in putting dirtbags back on the streets? These dirtbags perform the same crimes over and over again. Let's hold the judges and magistrates legally and financially responsible. It's NOT SO COMMON sense. There's legal and then there's street smart. No one will ever accuse judges of being street smart!

Letters to the editor

Are wind turbines the problem or the solution?

Dear Editor,

Many questions remain unanswered as we attempt to harness the wind. Taxpayers should proceed with extreme caution. Many questions remain unanswered and many of the answers provided need clarification. Wind turbines supporters believe their agenda is more important than the outcome. They really want us to cut back on our electricity usage.

By blocking real solutions such as nuclear power they succeed in shutting down an abundance of clean energy being safely produced. A large group of investors are benefiting from the turbine program at our expense. The remaining supporters suffer from apathy and care only about themselves.

Americans walked on the moon decades ago. Does anyone believe that we are unable to achieve maximum performance from a simple wind turbine today; after all it's not rocket science.

We become hysterical when a cell tower is constructed miles away deep in a swamp. We even surround it with artificial Christmas trees. Off shore oil rigs and pumping locations out of sight beyond the horizon causes panic amongst the environmentalist as they scream that we are interfering with nature and polluting the oceans and the tundra. Do they expect us to freeze to death? Billions of people tend to consume and replace. Yet, the same environmentalist support ugly wind turbines polluting our landscape both land and sea windmills that are both unnecessary and underperforming.

Environmentalist attempt to force American's to do without employing rationing techniques and price escalation. They will again do what they do best, place unnecessary controls over our lives.

Americans walked on the moon decades ago. It seems clear that if wind turbines were capable of a reasonable performance we would have accomplished that goal decades ago as well. Wind turbines are simply a type of generator that is driven by the wind. The windmill project is heavily funded maintaining a cloud of silence throughout the scientific community perpetuating this underperformer. Wind turbines will in time double in size producing twice the noise and eventually be placed in huge numbers wherever the wind blows if they are not stopped.

I have been following wind turbines for more than thirty years and my humble nature has been replaced by annoyance as I follow the money trail. The scientific community silence is a clear indicator that they want the grants to continue and their retirement to be ensured. Surely there are design goals for the future use of turbines. Where are they?

- How long are we willing to wait for wind energy to become competitive?

- How much are we willing to spend developing a turbine capable of making a difference?

- Do we want honest answers about turbines or do we want to feel good about trying?

- Will wind turbines ever become a significant contributor?

- Considering future energy needs in a world that is rapidly growing; will a 1% contribution from wind turbines satisfy anyone or anger them?

Wind Mills will continue to rapidly consume taxpayer subsidies for years to come making the real cost of implementation impractical. Expecting consumers to lower demands and ignore off the shelf solutions such as nuclear power will eventually anger them. Especially when they understand that it is not necessary to sacrifice performance or megawatts when other options are so readily available. The private sector would never risk spending their money on this type of technology.

Two options are available; nuclear power, which will take time to undo the many unnecessary regulations and to lower its cost and also to gain permits to build or we can clutter the landscape with underperforming wind turbines. Even the Europeans decided nuclear power was the source making the most sense.

Environmentalists continue to rely on costly solutions for every project they touch at the taxpayers' expense. Unfortunately their solutions always create new problems much larger than the one's they attempted to solve. A huge majority agree that environmentalist have failed and most feel they are intoxicated with power and are no longer serving as intended. Human beings will lose to the snake darter or an insect nearly every time.

The cost of energy will remain high as long as the government subsidizes these schemes. The only way the government can justify schemes such as this is to drive up the cost of all of the remaining options. Without driving prices higher on known solutions the high cost of wind power could never be justified.

Wind turbines are the reincarnation of failures of the past; we must START thinking about the future. With countries such as India, China and others that are ramping up their needs will conclude that nuclear power is the only realistic option.

In regard to Mario Marchezee's mailing following the Sept. 14th primary, I would call for a double thumbs-down. To infer that Jim Miceli has given us, "33 years of failed leadership" is not only untrue, but would seem to border on slander! It's one thing to attempt to ride the current "Dump the Democrats" sentiment, but to dismiss all of the accomplishments of "A Good Man doing a GREAT Job" is not only wrong, but just shows Mr. Marchezee's true character.... or should I say Lack of it!!

Wilmington

My bad experience at A1 Prime: I swiped my credit card and proceeded to pump $20 worth of gas. Simultaneously, a woman behind me was waiting for her pump to be turned on. Somehow, my transaction was mixed up with hers. I went inside to advise the attendant. I was told my $20 was never billed on my credit card, and he insisted I give him my card to pay for the gas. I asked to speak to the "owner," and a man came out and I told him I was concerned about double billing. He disagreed and, foolishly, I gave the card to clerk. My credit card bill arrived and there were two $20 charges at A1 Prime. I took the bill to the station to ask for a refund and was told that the owner was not in and he had no set schedule for being in his office. After a few attempts to talk to someone with authority, I gave up, but vowed NEVER to go there again. The gas may be less expensive than others, but their behavior is unacceptable. We don't need this, or them, in our town!

Give control to cities and towns

Dear Editor,

During this election season, the Massachusetts Municipal Association is calling on all candidates for the Legislature to pledge their support for reform legislation to give cities and towns the ability to control skyrocketing health insurance costs and save local taxpayers $100 million a year, and we encourage all voters and taxpayers to do the same.

Paying for health insurance is a problem for everyone, but cities and towns have been forced to pay much more than necessary because of a state law that gives municipal unions a veto over routine plan changes that would reduce the cost to taxpayers. Over the past ten years, cities and towns have seen their health insurance costs rise by over 150%, squeezing out vital services and costing local taxpayers more and more.

The state has cut local aid by $825 million, and cities and towns have laid off thousands of employees, cut services and increased their reliance on property taxes. Without real health insurance reform, communities will continue to pay too much for employee health benefits, which will force even more service cuts and layoffs while local taxpayers pay millions more than they should.

When the new Legislature convenes in January our Representatives and Senators need to support real reform that gives local government the same authority the state has to design health insurance plans outside of collective bargaining. Cities and towns would be able to lower their health insurance costs by $100 million statewide. This is real savings that taxpayers deserve and need.

The reform legislation would provide relief from an indefensible state law that allows local unions to block even modest changes in health plans, such as increasing any co-pays or deductibles. Many municipalities are locked into plans that offer $5 co-pays for office visits, and no co-pays or deductibles for many expensive procedures. But state employees have $20 co-pays and much higher deductibles because state leaders have exempted themselves from this collective bargaining mandate, and state officials routinely implement plan changes to save money on health insurance with no union approval required.

Cities and towns should have the same authority the state has. There is no excuse for keeping the unique and special veto power that municipal unions hold over health plan changes - this veto power is costing taxpayers millions, and is forcing cuts in important services, and is causing the elimination of teachers, firefighters and police officers from local budgets.

We urge all voters and taxpayers to ask candidates for the Legislature for a commitment to pass strong municipal health insurance reform when the Legislature convenes in January. Otherwise, the fiscal problems we face will get worse, and local taxpayers will continue to pay more and get less in return. Sincerely,

Geoffrey C. Beckwith
Executive Director
Massachusetts Municipal Association

Wilmington Cultural Council seeks funding proposals

Community-oriented arts and humanities projects, due October 15th

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Cultural Council has set an October 15th post-mark deadline for organizations, schools and individuals to apply for grants that support cultural activities in the community. According to Council spokesperson Linda Molloy, these grants can support a variety of artistic projects and activities in Wilmington--including exhibits, festivals, short-term artist residencies or performances in schools, workshops and lectures.

The Wilmington Cultural Council will also entertain funding proposals from schools and youth groups through the PASS Program, which provides subsidies for school-age children to attend cultural field trips.

The Wilmington Cultural Council is part of a network of 329 Local Cultural Councils serving all 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth. The LCC Program is the largest grassroots cultural funding network in the nation, supporting thousands of community-based projects in the arts, sciences and humanities every year. The state legislature provides an annual appropriation to the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, which then allocates funds to each community.

This year, the Wilmington Cultural Council will distribute about four-thousand dollars in grants. Previously funded projects include PASS grants to Shawshen Technical High School, LCC grants to Wilmington Memorial Library, Wilmington Recreation Department, Wilmington Art Show, Wilmington Senior Center, vocal shows for seniors, and dance workshops.

Application forms and more information about the Local Cultural Council Program are available online at www.mass-culture.org/lcc.

Turn in Rx drugs Saturday expired, unused and unwanted prescription medications for safe destruction at sites nationwide. In Wilmington, the collection will take place at the Public Safety Building.

The service is free and anonymous; no questions asked," wrote Wilmington Police Chief Michael Begonis in a statement issued to the Crier.

The initiative aims to attack an essential public health and public safety risk.

According to the Police Department, "many Americas are not aware that medicines that languish in home cabinets are highly susceptible to diversion, misuse, and abuse." Drug abuse rates in the United States are rising as well as accidental poisonings and overdoses. Studies agree that the majority of abused prescription drugs come from the household medicine cabinet.

Some folks tend to flush such drugs down the toilet, however there is a side impact to doing so. According to recent studies by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) pharmaceutical drugs have been detected in varying concentrations in our nation's water supplies through normal metabolic processes as well as flushing down the drain.

"Prescription drug abuse and diversion - often facilitated by 'left-over' prescriptions being stored in our homes - is having a devastating effect on our families and on our communities," said the Bureau of Justice Assistance's (BJA) Acting Director, James H. Burch, II. "We strongly encourage all of BJA's state, local, and tribal partners to help spread the word and to participate in DEA's National Prescription Drug Take-Back campaign on September 25. The safe and legal disposal of prescription drugs through this effort could make a substantial impact on prescription drug abuse and will result in safer communities."

The DEA reports that one in seven teens admits to abusing prescription drugs to get high in the past year, that 56 percent of teens believe that prescription drugs are easier to obtain than illicit drugs, and that in 2008, the National Survey on Drug Use and Health reported that 6.2 million Americans aged 12 and older abused prescription drugs for non-medical purposes within the last month.

Other agencies and offices participating in the "Take-Back" effort include the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy, the Partnership for a Drug-Free America, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the National Association of Attorneys General, the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy, the Federation of state medical Boards, and the National District Attorneys Association.

No questions will be asked for residents bringing in their medications including expired, unused, and unwanted prescription drugs in the forms of tablets, capsules, and other solid dosage forms for destruction of sites nationwide.

Intravenous solutions, injectable drugs, needles, and syringes will not be collected.

The National Guard will take all drugs to approved incinerating plants. The service is free. Residents with questions should call the Wilmington Police Department at 978-658-5071.

feet, and four storefronts. Storage areas will also be incorporated into the rear of the design. From the street the building will be two and a half stories though it will be four stories from the rear due to the sloping lot.

"There's a need for it," said Langone, adding that in order to achieve success with a Center Business District the town needs to have people living in the center, creating foot traffic. The addition of public transportation across the street with the Wilmington Commuter Rail stop just makes the concept work even better.

Ultimately the site lends itself to a mixed-use application due to its proximity to transportation, some schools, and local small businesses. Langone and others hope that this project will lead to a revitalized town center, envisioned by town meeting five years ago when the Center Business District was passed.

The project is under construction at this time with crews preparing to pour the foundation. Langone estimates that the project will be complete in the August/September 2011 time frame.

Langone does not know exactly what businesses will choose to locate in the new space but adds that his group has not yet begun to market the project.

So, why the six year lag between permitting and construction? Simple really, according to Langone. Six years ago his organization could not keep up with the demand for new homes, so this project - like many other commercial projects - was placed on the backburner. Today, the tables have turned with slow growth in residential development, making it a good time to tackle commercial projects.

Butters-Avery House, this more than 300-year-old salt-box house was one of the first built in the area. Built by William Butters II in 1682, the house is considered a first period house. The son of one of the area's earliest settlers, William Butters I, the home began as a garrison house protecting colonists from attacks by local Native American tribes. The house likely was first built elsewhere then reassembled in Wilmington. Evidence to support the theory includes attic beams marked with Roman numerals and a very old door in the home that dates to 1640.

According to the Wilmington Historical Commission, the farmhouse housed families continuously for over 320 years. Home to James Butters, a Wilmington Minuteman who fought in the Battle of Lexington and Concord, as well as Theodore Butters who fought and died in the Battle of Gettysburg during the Civil War. The property is also well known for being the place where the Baldwin apple was first discovered. Also known as the Butters or Peckers apple, a wealthy and influential man named Laommi Baldwin of Woburn introduced his many friends to the apple, which eventually adopted his name.

In 2005 the house was slated for demolition to make way for new single-family homes. The Wilmington Historical Commission and local preservation enthusiasts banded together to the landmark. At the 2006 Town Meeting Wilmington residents voted overwhelmingly (225 to 8) to purchase the farm. Wilmington's legislative delegation worked to secure a $450,000 appropriation for the full purchase of the property.

Soon after, the group began the work necessary to put the farm on the National Register. The previous owner, Velma Emery, had submitted an application in the 1990s, but it remained pending. The Historic Commission hired esteemed architectural historian Arthur Krim to update the documentation and refile the application, just over two years ago. In March 2010 the Massachusetts Historical Commission approved the Butters Farm nomination to the National Register, prompting a swift approval in July. The town was notified in mid-August that the National Park Service listed the house on the National Register of Historic Places.

The town continues to do rehabilitation work on the property, said Terry McDermott, Curator of the Lt. Joseph Harden Tavern and Town Museum. McDermott says that the front has been restored and the town continues working to complete the exterior rehabilitation of the house. The town is continuing to seek grant funds for both interior and exterior work.

A fundraiser for the Lydon Family was held at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus on Friday evening. The theme was "Half Way to St. Patrick's Day in the 80's." Jomarie O'Mahony dressed the part, as did her husband David who went as the iconic J.R. Ewing. (photo by Maureen Lamoureux-www.shootingstarspix.com)

Secretary Galvin honors supporters of military

Promotes "Operation Patriot Vote"

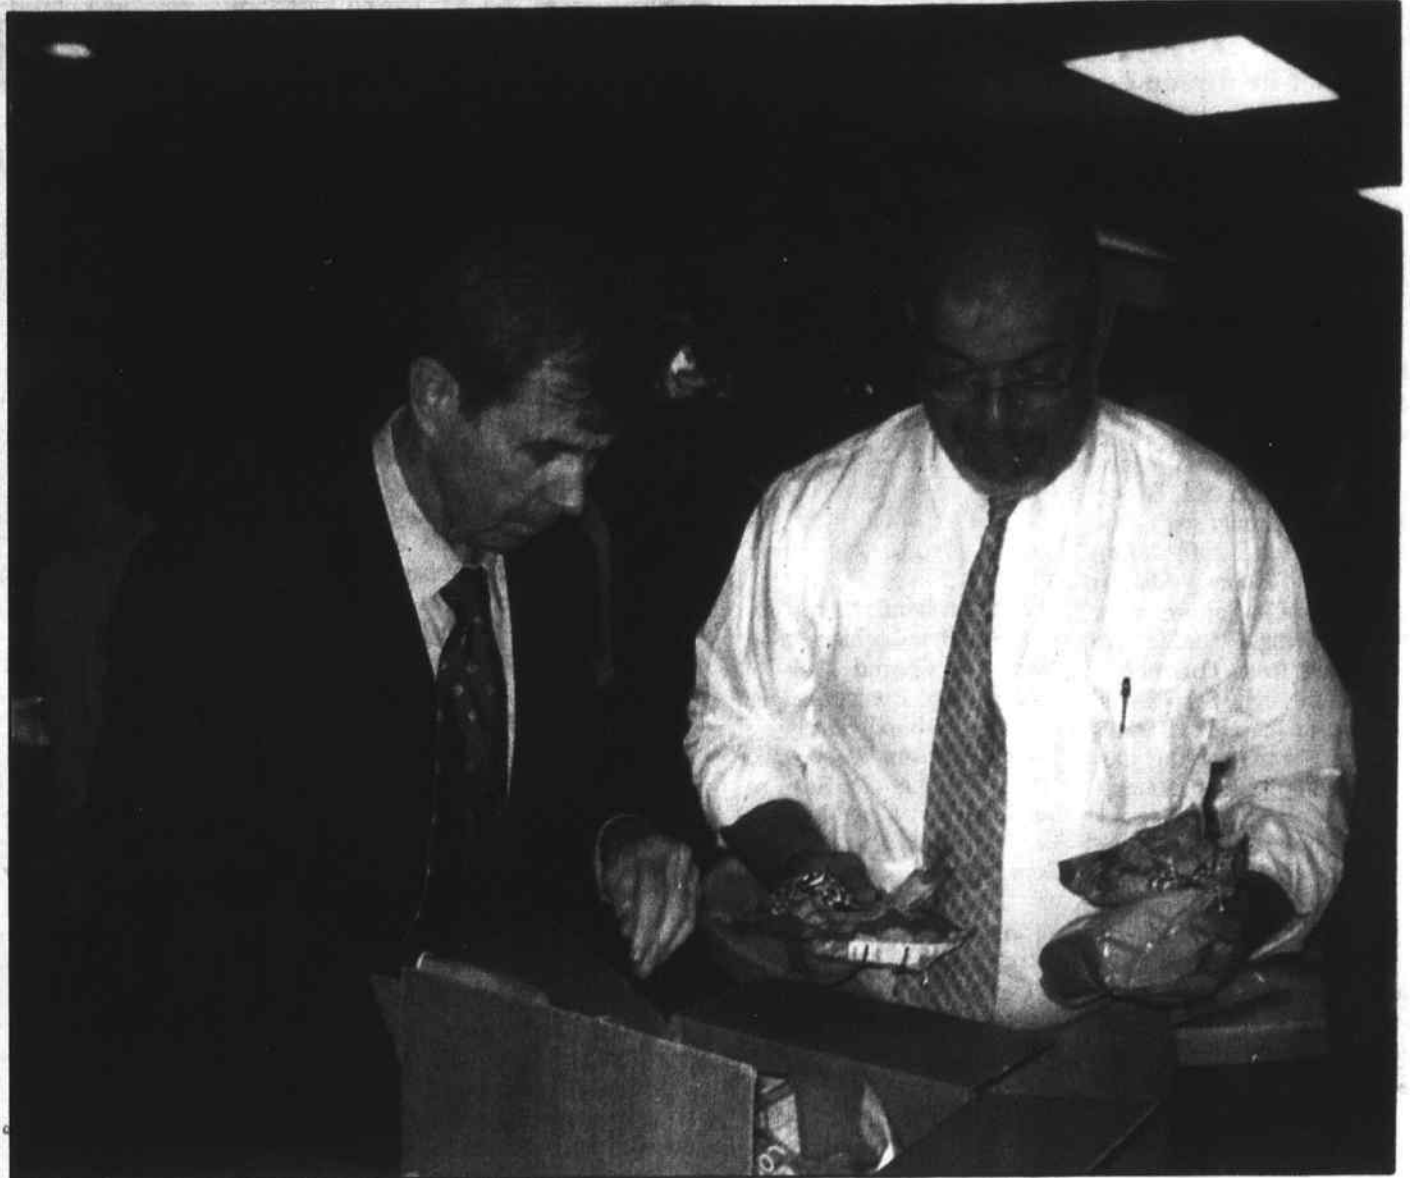

WILMINGTON - Secretary of the Commonwealth William F. Galvin paid a visit to Wilmington-based Local Heroes on Wednesday, September 15 and cited the organization for its efforts in sending packages to military personnel around the world. Recently, packages have included voting information for service people overseas.

Local Heroes has sent more than 11,000 packages to military personnel since the War on Terror began, and they have a goal of sending a package to each local hero serving overseas in the next year.

During his visit, Secretary Galvin also outlined a streamlined program "Operation Patriot Vote" that will enable overseas voters, particularly the military, to cast their ballots in the coming election. For the first time, they can request that absentee ballots be sent to them electronically or by facsimile, and the filled-out ballots can be returned by fax or e-mail as well.

The evening's event also kicked off a campaign to get information on voting overseas to the families of service men and women on duty around the world, informing them of the opportunity to vote by fax or e-mail. Overseas voters have been able to send back absentee ballots by expedited mail since 1997.

Massachusetts Secretary of State William F. Galvin paid a visit to Wilmington-based Local Heroes last Wednesday. He presented a citation to the group for their efforts in supporting the troops overseas. Then the Secretary (left) jumped right in and started assembling care packages. Appearing in the photo with Secretary Galvin is Local Heroes founder and President Lou Cimaglia.

Sons of Italy and Italian Heritage Committee hosting golf tournament

WILMINGTON - In October, 1999, then Governor A. Paul Cellucci signed into law legislation proclaiming October as Italian American Heritage Month in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. To help celebrate this year's 12th anniversary, the Wilmington Sons of Italy, in conjunction with the Italian Heritage Committee, is holding its First Annual Italian American Heritage Month Golf Classic. This tournament, which will be held at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading, Massachusetts, will take place on Friday, October 22, 2010.

Golfers comprised of four men/women teams can play 18 holes with a golf cart at a donation of $125 per player. Golfers will enjoy a continental breakfast and a luncheon buffet. There will be contests on the course such as longest drive, straightest drive and closest to the pin, a 50/50 raffle hole, prizes for the top three teams and a gift for each player.

If golfing is not your sport, you can still show your support by becoming a course sponsor. Sponsoring a Tee Box or Hole is a donation of $100. Golf Cart sponsorships are also available for a donation of $50. Sponsors' name, business or organization will be prominently displayed on the golf course, in our public relation write-ups and announced during our luncheon.

Proceeds from this year's golf tournament will benefit our charitable and scholarship programs as well as assist our committee and our participating organizations in organizing and coordinating Italian cultural activities across the Commonwealth of Massachusetts during the month of October. Most of these programs are free and open to the public. Programs include Italian art, history, language, music, opera, food, dance and film. Our goal is to demonstrate the beautiful creativity of Italian culture and its influence on the world.

There will be a raffle at the luncheon to assist in fundraising. We would be grateful to receive a gift certificate or donation to help enhance our raffle table. Additional luncheon tickets may be purchased for a donation of $30.00 per person. To volunteer at the tournament or if you require further information, please contact Kevin Cairra at 978-657-7734.

Your generosity and support of our golf tournament is greatly appreciated.

Two from Tewksbury among honorees

Community Teamwork, Inc. to honor nine local heroes

LOWELL - Community Teamwork, Inc. (CTI) is pleased to announce that nine Greater Lowell organizations and individuals are this year's recipients of CTI's 2010 Local Heroes Awards. These publicly nominated "heroes" all have made extraordinary efforts to create a better quality of life for the residents of Greater Lowell. CTI invites the community to help honor them at its 17th Annual Evening with Local Heroes, Wednesday, October 27th, 2010, from 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. at Lenzi's in Dracut. If you are interested in attending, call (978) 459-0551.

President's Award Recipient, Lowell High School Junior Air Force ROTC, selected by CTI's Board President Donald Washburn. CTI's 2010 Local Heroes President's Award goes to the student cadets of Lowell High School's Junior Air Force ROTC, who have embraced the organization's mission to educate and train high school cadets in citizenship by promoting community service, and instilling responsibility, character and self-discipline, while also providing instruction in air and space fundamentals. CTI will honor the ROTC cadets for the thousands of hours of community service they perform annually throughout the City of Lowell, while meeting high standards of academic excellence. Among their notable community service projects are park and recreation space restoration, neighborhood cleanups and shoveling for the elderly.

Marjorie McDermott Award Recipient, Frank O'Malley, Westford. Francis "Frank" O'Malley is this year's recipient of the Marjorie McDermott award for his exceptional compassion and service to "children of all ages," including those with and without disabilities. His admirers describe Frank as "steady, devoted and deeply caring" and a "gentleman who persists in seeking justice for people and solutions to needs." A father of a grown daughter with developmental disabilities, Frank has committed decades to advocacy and volunteerism, helping build community-based solutions for people with disabilities. Among the key organizations he has supported and influenced are LifeLinks, Inc., the Massachusetts Department of Mental Retardation, the Massachusetts Department of Developmental Services and Community Teamwork, Inc.

State Senator Susan Tucker of Andover, serving Lawrence, Andover, Dracut and Tewksbury. Senator Tucker's work as a legislator is part of her lifelong commitment to advocacy and community service. She currently is the Chair of the Housing Committee, Vice Chair of the Telecommunications & Energy Committee, a member of Senate Ways and Means and formerly served as Chair of the Human Service and Elder Affairs Committee. She has been instrumental in passing legislation to address the foreclosure crisis and preserve affordable housing and has received many Legislative Leadership Awards for her work in fighting child abuse and for advocating for foster care children, the elderly, the disabled and the homeless.

Rebecca Duda of Dracut. History teacher Rebecca Duda of Dracut's Lakeview Junior High School has stretched the boundaries of creative education and community service by integrating her efforts to help restore the long forgotten Claypit Cemetery along Pawtucket Boulevard with her students' eagerness to conduct their own primary research. Ms. Duda used Claypit Cemetery to teach the students how to use census records, vital records and other resources at the Dracut Historical Society to uncover the unique history of those buried there (the students' essays and research can be viewed at www.primaryresearch.org). As she enters her seventh year at Lakeview Junior High, Ms. Duda has also distinguished herself with numerous educator awards including the William Spratt Award for Outstanding Social Studies Teacher, the Milken National Outstanding Educator, and as a Distinguished Educator by her alma mater, Salem State University.

The late Edward A. Fish of Braintree, having served Greater Lowell and the Merrimack Valley. Edward Fish was a builder and philanthropist who developed more than $1 billion worth of real estate in New England and Florida over the past 40 years. What makes him special to Lowell was his commitment to build hundreds of units of high quality affordable and market rate housing beginning in the early 1970s, a time of decline and disinvestment in Lowell - but Mr. Fish saw Lowell's promise and turned it into a reality. Among his notable developments are some of Lowell's most recognizable and desirable properties including Ayers Lofts, Market Mills (housing seniors and people with disabilities) and the Renaissance on the River.

JoAnne McQuilkin of Tewksbury. Joanne has devoted most of her adult life to serving children, young women and families through community service and volunteerism. Her friends, family and colleagues recount the untold hours she has given "help to create a better community, especially for low-income children and families." For over 12 years, she has coordinated the Enterprise Bank Christmas Toy Drive, securing the donation of hundreds of toys that are shared with agencies including CTI, Girls Inc., Lowell House and the Salvation Army, who distribute them to deserving children. "Her work over the past decade has probably touched thousands of children," says Enterprise Bank's Maryellen Fitzpatrick. Ms. McQuilkin also serves as Board President and classroom instructor for SuitAbility, Inc., CTI's work entry and re-entry program for low-income women, where she helps young women build their careers and meet their personal and professional goals. JoAnne also has served the Today's Girls/Tomorrow's Leaders program at the Merrimack Valley United Way.

Stephen Greene of Lowell.

Stephen Greene is a volunteer, activist and organizer who successfully brings local residents together to address litter reduction, enhance beautification and better address solid waste management across the City of Lowell. With a professional background in environmental management and sustainable practices, he has directed his considerable expertise to help organizations such as Keep Lowell Beautiful to beautify and clean up the City and engage its residents, businesses and government to make Lowell a better place to live, work and visit. His work encompasses partnering and working with the City of Lowell, the National Park Service, Community Gardens Greenhouse and neighborhood groups. As a volunteer, Stephen is also very involved in Lowell's solid waste and recycling programs and green building initiatives.

Ashley Toland of Tewksbury. As a student of Tewksbury Memorial High School, Ashley Toland has earned numerous awards for academic, athletic and community service achievements including the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association's Individual Community Service Award. Among her long list of service projects, Ms. Toland has earned recognition for her organizational and planning skills, her understanding of technology to build an effective donation website and her willingness to ask the community to help low income children obtain school supplies and other essentials to begin the school year. A recent Lowell Sun article ran this headline: "Tewksbury teen's school supplies drive exceeds goal for second straight year," resulting in nearly 300 filled backpacks valued at over $10,000. Ms. Toland also volunteers at and fundraises for the Lowell Humane Society, E.C.H.O. - Earth, Culture and Humanity Organization, United Way of Massachusetts Bay, the Salvation Army and the Wish Project.

Lowell Telecommunications Corporation (LTC). LTC is Lowell's public access station where its members and volunteers produce nearly 3,000 hours of community-based programming that is aired on channels 8, 10 and 95. Among the most notable productions they have contributed to are the coverage of the annual Lowell Folk Festival and the Southeast Asian Water Festival. Executive Director Eleanor Pye is thrilled that this Local Heroes award will shine a spotlight on its members and volunteers who spend countless hours creating quality local programming for Lowell and its residents. Through their efforts and the support of LTC staff, LTC programming has expanded awareness of many areas of community life including arts and culture, business and commerce, ethnic and faith diversity, freedom of speech and open communication.

No Name Cemetery reclaimed

Part 1 in a two-part series about a lost and nearly forgotten cemetery

By JAYNE W. MILLER

TEWKSBURY - Hidden away in a grove of pines and oaks, between baseball fields and the middle school, lays a nearly forgotten cemetery. More than a thousand souls lay buried there, marked only by simple cement cylinders flush with the ground. Most were former patients of Tewksbury State Hospital; all were paupers. As part of a land transfer negotiated on Beacon Hill, the town will receive recreation fields along Livingston Street along with the care and keeping of this secluded cemetery.

House Bill 4822, co-sponsored by Representative Barry Finegold, Representative Jim Miceli, and Senator Susan Tucker, passed the State House on July 30 and was signed by Governor Deval Patrick on August 5. The Bill authorized the Commissioner of the Division of Capital Asset Management (DCAM) to convey more than 25 acres of land at Livingston Street Fields to the Town of Tewksbury.

The land, already used for athletic fields and open space purposes, is now restricted to remain only recreational and open space uses, protecting it from being sold for future development. The parcel begins at Hazel Field, used for softball, and includes football fields, the playground, tennis courts, and skate park, to the Recreation Department and Antonelli Field. The parcel extends west to the Middle School grounds, creating a continuous parcel. All of the acreage included in the transfer is on the west side of Livingston Street, opposite the lacrosse fields and defunct haunted house.

"The Town has been pushing for this much needed land conveyance for a long time. I am excited that the fields will now be an asset to the community and residents rather than unusable, empty space," said Representative Barry R. Finegold in a press statement.

"The Livingston Street Fields provide recreation space for the residents of Tewksbury. I am proud to work with my colleagues, the Town and the state on this land transfer," stated Senator Sue Tucker.

According to Representative Miceli, the land had been transferred to the town years ago, but the town never filed the deed.

"This took a concerted effort by a lot of people including my colleagues and the chairman of the committee (Stephen Walsh, Chairman of State Administration Committee)," Miceli told the Crier. "It's amazing that this issue has been in limbo since the sixties and it's nice to see that we're on our way to finally issuing a new deed and having the town file it."

Between the baseball fields and the middle school grounds is the colloquially known as 'No Name' cemetery, also referred to by hospital employees as the Livingston Street burial grounds. From December 1935 to 1969 more than 1,000 Tewksbury State Hospital patients were buried there in plain pine boxes.

Part of the transfer ensures that the Town of Tewksbury, "shall be responsible for any costs, liabilities or expenses of any kind for the maintenance and protection of a cemetery located on land of the commonwealth adjacent to the parcel..."

The town, through the use of Community Preservation Act (CPA) funds approved by Town Meeting in October of 2009 and May 2010, will erect a wrought iron-style fence around the cemetery, finally delineating it from the surrounding fields used by Middle School students.

The Crier walked the site with Nancy Reed, Chair of the Community Preservation Committee, and Kim Zunino, Assistant Administrator with the Lowell Historic Board and a cemetery expert. The cemetery, now thick with pine and oak trees and bushes, was once an open field. Some litter is scattered through the edges of the site and minor damage caused from heavy equipment during installation of a sewer line on the adjacent parcel is evident. Most people do not even know the cemetery is there.

There are three sections to the cemetery apparent only through the A, B, or C notation on the grave markers. Each marker is stamped with a number and a letter and is made of a mixture of cement and mortar, says Duncan Hazel, the retired Safety Officer from Tewksbury Hospital who once included among his responsibilities digging the graves in both the No Name cemetery and the Pines Cemetery located on East Street.

There is some confusion about the sectioning of the cemetery. Joanne Trudelle, Vice President of the Public Health Museum at the Hospital, believes that they correspond to Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant sections of the cemetery. Hazel disagrees, instead stating it is just part of the naming convention from the early 20th century.

The Crier, with the help of Trudelle, Hazel, and several local citizens has uncovered a remarkable story about a family that found a relative buried here, seemingly forgotten to time. Already the family of Isobel Mota is thrilled to learn that the cemetery will finally be properly protected. Don't miss next week's Town Crier for that story.

Wildcats hang on for dear life

Wilmington High School senior quarterback Sean Hanley tossed two touchdown passes, ran in another score and then picked off three passes on the defensive side of the ball during Saturday's 20-14 win over Austin Prep. (photo by JoeBrownphotos.com).

Hanley has a day to remember

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

READING -- The old expression in sports is 'have a day' meaning someone played exceptional. But for Sean Hanley his performance went to a new level -- he had an 'Al Bundy Day'.

The Wilmington High senior quarterback/cornerback had a monster performance helping the Wildcats edge out Austin Prep, 20-14, in a non-league game played Saturday morning at APHS in Reading.

As the signal caller, Hanley completed 6-of-12 passes for 93 yards and tossed a pair of touchdown passes to John Parsons, while another two touchdown passes were called back due to penalties. In addition to that, Hanley also rushed the ball eight times for 64 yards (includes his QB sacks) and scored on a gorgeous 69-yard touchdown run.

Then he topped it all off by picking off three passes from Austin Prep's starting quarterback Ryan Havey, two coming in the first half, and the third on the Cougars' first possession of the third quarter.

So two touchdown passes, one touchdown run and three picks -- not a bad day.

"That's a career game right there," said head coach Mike Barry. "He had three interceptions, a 60-yard touchdown run, and he threw two touchdown passes -- that's an Al Bundy game right there. We joke around with the coaches saying it was an Al Bundy game from (the TV show) Married with Children and (the) Polk High (Panthers) and that was Sean today."

"He played very well. He's that type of kid. He's a very tough kid and I think people kind of underestimate that at times."

Last year Hanley emerged as the team's starting quarterback during the pre-season taking over the reigns for Stephen Stewart, who took his athleticism to Bentley University. Hanley had played QB at the JV level his first two years, and last year he was extremely impressive, throwing over 1,300 yards and tossing 13 TD passes.

Now with just two games under his belt this year, he has completed 9-of-17 passes for 173 yards and three TD passes, as well as having 65 rushing yards and the one score. He could have padded those stats on Saturday but

Wilmington chalked up 77 yards in penalties, including a holding call and a chop block infraction which eventually forced Wilmington to punt both times instead of putting the game away with two more offensive scores.

Meanwhile, Austin Prep was able to hang around, cutting a 20-0 deficit to a one score game with 1:55 to go. Six running plays later, including three by Hanley and a monster 44-yard dash by Kevin Moriarty, and Wilmington celebrated with a win, making it 2-0 on the young season.

"They are a pretty good team. They never quit. They ran the ball good, they threw the ball good and they have a pretty good quarterback," said Hanley about Austin Prep, before adding, "We kind of beat ourselves with a lot of penalties."

Had it not been for Hanley, perhaps Austin Prep, the reigning Division 4A Super Bowl Champions, could have and perhaps would have pulled out the major upset. Instead, Hanley came ready to play, starting with an incredible first half performance, including the two defensive interceptions and the two touchdown passes.

"The first (interception) we went over that play a lot in practice, carry the wheel with the second receiver and (Havey) just threw it right to me," explained Hanley.

And the touchdown passes? "The first one was a waggle (play call) and Parsons was wide open," he said. "(Austin Prep) really didn't cover the flat area, and the second (touchdown pass) was pretty much the same thing. Parsons had a big game -- he's a beast and he really hits hard, too."

Hanley is a three-sport athlete at WHS. He came off the bench for the basketball team as a junior, and had a terrific year as a member of the baseball team, going undefeated on the mound as the team's top reliever. He's played sports his entire life and his family has a long background of playing sports at WHS including his twin sister Taylor, who is also a three-sport athlete playing volleyball, basketball and softball.

And while some of his family members have had their special days in the sports world, Saturday belonged to Sean Hanley -- as he had a game, or actually he had an Al Bundy like performance.

Penalties and drops allow Cougars to come back

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

READING -- They play in a higher division, play in a much better league, have better talent, and yes, were favored to win. But for the Wilmington High School Wildcat Football team, they had to play the game first. And although it started off on the right foot, things got very sloppy in the second half for the Wildcats much like they did for the Patriots on Sunday. But Wilmington was able to hang on, defeating a very feisty, very energetic and tough Austin Prep Cougar team, who refused to bow down to the Mighty Wildcats, fighting until the very end before Kevin Moriarty's 44-yard run in the final minute of the game, gave the Wildcats a huge first down, and more importantly, a 20-14 non-league victory played Saturday morning in Reading.

Wilmington escaped the Austin Prep field with the win to improve to 2-0, behind a monster performance by senior Sean Hanley, who tossed two TD passes, ran in another and also picked off three interceptions by Austin's starting quarterback Ryan Havey. Both TD passes by Hanley went to junior John Parsons, who had another dominating game on both sides of the ball. But besides that, the only thing that stood out was the 77 yards in penalties, the dropped passes and the two touchdowns that were taken away because of penalties.

"We had some drops, and too many penalties, but we hung in there," said Wildcat head coach Mike Barry.

Wilmington was called for seven penalties for a combined 77 yards, while Austin Prep didn't get called for a single infraction. But AP turned the ball over four times, the first on a fumble recovery by James Perry which led to Hanley's first touchdown pass to John Parsons, on a 29-yard strike just 2:05 into the ballgame.

Later in the first quarter, AP turned the ball over on downs, going for it on fourth down at the Wildcat 26 but an incomplete pass gave Wilmington possession. It took just two plays for the Wildcats to score again as Moriarty went to his left for a huge 63-yard run, which was followed by a 10-yard TD pass to Parsons, his second score of the game and Wilmington took a 14-0 lead after the first quarter.

After both teams were forced to punt, AP strung together a 12-play drive which lasted over five minutes moving the ball all the way to the Wildcat 20 yard line. On third-and-five from the 20, Havey tossed his second interception of the first half, and again it was picked off by Hanley, who returned the ball to the 17 only to have it moved back to the 5 on a Wilmington unsportsmanlike penalty.

Hanley did his version of Alex Smith in this drive, completing two passes and adding another first down on an 11-yard roll out keeper play. But the biggest play of the drive was the halfback option to Parsons, who then found Chris Frissore, who caught a 40-yard pass on the trick play moving the ball to the AP 40. But two more penalties forced Wilmington to punt, and three plays after that the Wildcats took a 14-0 lead into the halftime break.

The Wildcats quickly upped their lead scoring on its first possession of the third quarter as Hanley took the ball right up the ball before cutting to his right and going in untouched for a 69-yard touchdown run making it 20-0 as the PAT kick was blocked.

Austin Prep scored the final two touchdowns as Tyler Finigan went in from one-yard out on fourth down with 8:01 left in the fourth, before he made things really interesting with a 9-yard run on an inside trap call with 2:03 left. The conversion pass was good and AP cut the lead down to six. Wilmington was able to run out the clock and hang out to the win.

"It's just frustrating when you have a chance to put a team away and we didn't do that," said Barry. "That's all on me as head coach. That's my job to get these guys motivated and we have to do a better job of that."

"They (Austin Prep) obviously play hard. You know that Bill (Maradei's) team is going to play hard, and that Austin Prep is going to play hard, no ifs-and-or-buts about that and you saw that until the very end today. When we throw a touchdown pass, we can't have it called back, and when we have a guy wide open down the field, we have to make the catch. We have to execute and not make mistakes. If you saw the game today you saw the things we need to improve on, and I'm confident that our kids will come back Monday (at practice) and work on those things."

All in all Wilmington ended the game with 358 yards of offense giving the team 702 through two games. Moriarty ended the game with seven carries for 123 yards with two huge runs becoming so critical to the win. Frissore added three catches for 73 yards and booted two PAT kicks. Defensively, Parsons again had a big game, as the Wildcat unit basically bent all game but didn't break.

"I was really happy with the way the kids prepared for this game, especially on defense," said Barry. "My guys this year have done a great job so far preparing for the next opponent. On defense I thought we had a good plan this week with Joe Cavanaugh and the other assistant coaches did a great job preparing for this game. The kids listened and they executed the defense except for one or two lapses. We had those mistakes, but hey I thought overall we played pretty good defense today."

Spy Ponders on deck

This Friday night Wilmington will have its home opener as Arlington comes to town for a non-league game, before the two programs meet in every sport next year as part of the Middlesex League. Kickoff is slated for 7:00 pm at Alumni Stadium.

"Arlington's a good team," said Barry. "They had a good win against Newton South and (Saturday night) we're going to scout them against Burlington. I think they are an execution kind of offense and line-up in the I (formation), and I know they have a good core on defense coming back from what I heard."

Two hundred friends walk for Hurley Family

ANDOVER - Steve Levine remembered that John Hurley was there for him at a time when the soon-to-be-retired Tewksbury High School soccer coach needed

Alzheimer's research and the burgeoning costs of Carol's health care.

"I've known Carol and John since I started teaching in Tewksbury," said Levine as he reached that first Andover hill, with Phillips Academy a good distance over the horizon. "John was one of my first soccer captains and one of the first athletes in Tewksbury to come out for soccer. His coming out for soccer brought a lot of other people out for the sport."

Hurley's coming out for the Alzheimer's Association not only helped his family cope financially, but got the good word out that often people with early-onset of the illness get left by the insurance company wayside. These families turn to friends and family. Longtime friends like Brian Foley, who played basketball with Hurley, and then years later saw his kids go to kindergarten with Hurley's sons. For Foley, this day was nothing short of a big-time reality check.

"Reality hits home," reflected Foley as he began Sunday's walk. "Children growing up together...it's the circle of life- people being born, getting married, kids going to kindergarten together. All of a sudden reality hits home for all of us. We all feel vulnerable."

Hurley and Ray Tremlett played varsity basketball someone to step up and spread the good word about a fledgling sport. When Levine found out that Hurley's wife Carol had early onset Alzheimer's and needed support for her team in one of the 13 Alzheimer's Association Memory Walks, he didn't hesitate. Where and when? Levine would be there Sunday for the 3.5 mile walk that covered two steep hills in Andover.

Carol Hurley, who turned 50 Sunday and celebrated with over 200 of her closest friends, will have many steep hills to climb as she copes with her illness. This was but the first step for 'Judgie's Jewels', Carol's walk team that helped to raise over $16,000 for together in 1978 at Tewksbury Memorial High School. They were soccer co-captains together and "just ran up and down that soccer field, not really knowing what we were doing." Sunday the two men walked together. This time their mission was clear- to help people understand what love and friendship really means.

"John is such a great guy. He was always a great guy and such a great teammate," offered Hurley at the post-walk birthday celebration at the Hurley's Tewksbury home. "John actually told me about Carol a year ago when he first found out. He realized that he should tell people for the cause itself. Then he realized how much support he would get."

That support would come to include teachers who worked with Carol in the Tyngsboro school system and classmates from her years at Fitchburg State College. People who hadn't seen their friend in many years cleared their Sunday morning schedules. People like former Fitchburg State College classmate Chris Jordan, who met Carol when he was a Fitchburg State College sophomore in 1981.

"My family has some Alzheimer's in it," said Jordan, who also was there to wish Carol a happy birthday. "My mom is stricken with it. Carol is one of the nicest people that I have ever met. I'm happy to support her. She is a great person. I just hope that we find a cure for this disease."

There will be a steep hill to climb in that search for a cure. Tuesday was World Alzheimer's Day, and you would have to dig deep into your news-searching soul to find mention of the illness anywhere. And that, in these days of all-access news that means absolutely nothing, is absolutely and without a doubt pathetic.

Health care for Alzheimer's-related dementia now adds up to 604 billion dollars worldwide. In the year 2030, that cost is projected to soar by approximately 85 percent. Today, there are five million people in the United States living with the symptoms of Alzheimer's, and that number is expected to triple by the middle of the century. There is no doubt to this staggering reality for the baby-boomer generation that will probably be hardest-hit by the illness.

Alzheimer's is woefully underfunded when compared to other diseases. Just ask John's brother Brian, who came all the way from Michigan to walk with John, his family and their many friends. Just ask John's sister Pam (Hurley) Derry, who helped form the team that would begin planning for the walk at the many meetings leading up to Sunday.

"Those first meetings were very emotional at the start," says Hurley. "But once we got going, it was a great team, with everybody working together to organize this great event today. I'm sure that we will all keep plugging away."

They all will keep plugging way. Climbing those steep hills- all those hills that when you first look up and realize that now is the time to dig deep down into that spirit of survival that says, "never give up, for when you look all around you, there they are- family and friends, numbering in the hundreds, and with events like Sunday's, soon to be in the thousands."

At Sunday's birthday bash for Carol Hurley, there was a song played that raised the level of emotion on a 'quiet' late-afternoon in the Hurley family's backyard. The voice of Helen Reddy said just what Carol Hurley was feeling at the moment. John Hurley introduced his wife, telling everyone that a song would say what his wife could not put into words.

"You are what make living worthwhile. You are responsible for the impossible. You are my family- and all of my friends."

By the looks of things Sunday, Carol Hurley has plenty of friends- and a family planning on a future that includes caring for her in the home they call Tewksbury.

Golf team picks up first victory

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Wilmington High golf team picked up their first win of the season last Thursday afternoon against Lynnfield in a road match, downing their host by a score of 150-116. The Wildcats had started their season 0-4, but Thursday's match was their second impressive performance in a row, having dropped a 170-158 decision to a powerful Pentucket squad the day before.

"The team considered it a moral victory with how well we played against Pentucket," Wilmington coach Steve Lynch said. "That was the most points we have scored in a match since I have been here, and it would easily win almost any other match. That started to build our momentum and confidence."

If the near win against Pentucket was good for the team's confidence, then actually picking up a win against long time nemesis Lynnfield was even better. "Lynnfield has been thumping us for a number of years," Lynch said. "This was the first time we have beaten them in quite a while."

Senior captain Andrew Spurr led the way for the Wildcats with 35 points, while junior John Keough had 28 and junior Dalton Rolli had 25.

"Spurr had a very good day," Lynch said. "When you have an eagle and a couple of birdies like he did that will lead to a good day. He and Keough have been going back and forth as to his number one, and Keough was no slouch either in that match with his 28."

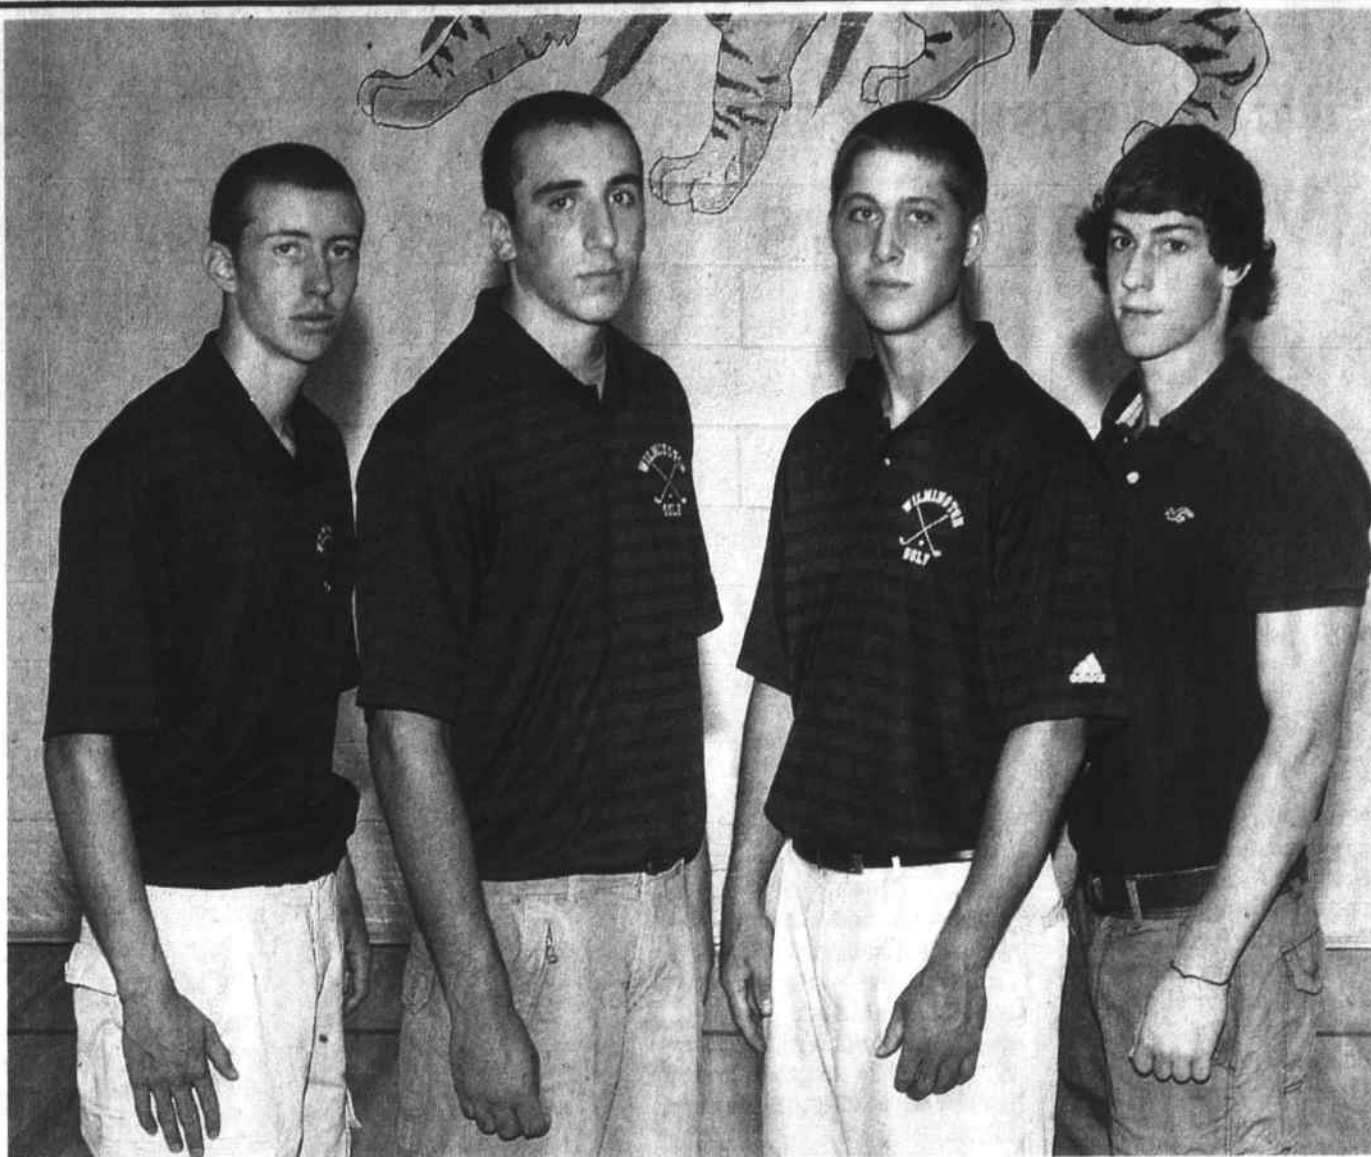

In the loss to Pentucket the Wildcats were led by Keough's 32, followed by 29 points from Adam Martiniello, Tyler Strem's 28 and Spurr's 27.

"Everybody was shooting in the 20's that day," Lynch said. "We lost it on the eight hole, or I should say Pentucket won it on the eight hole when they had two guys get eagles and one guy get a birdie."

While that first win was big for the Wildcats to get, Lynch and his team know that they still have a long way to go to achieve their team goals.

"We felt good about ourselves after the win, but we know the reality of the situation," Lynch said. "We only have a limited number of matches so going 0-4 makes it hard to make it up particularly with teams like Masco and North Andover still on our schedule."

"We have to keep the ball rolling and we have some winnable matches coming up where we hope we can keep our momentum going."

WHS B/G Soccer, B/G XC, Field Hockey and Volleyball Wildcat Boys Soccer team comes up empty

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The Wilmington High School Boys Soccer team came up completely empty in their third game of the season, losing 3-0 to North Reading on Tuesday night.

"Let's just say that we were soft and just totally uninterested in playing," said head coach Steve Scanlon. "It was the first game for North Reading on their new turf field and you have a team all fired up and we couldn't answer them. We were beaten to every ball, they were much more physical and we had no sense of urgency whatsoever."

The game was scoreless at halftime, and Scanlon said his team had all kinds of chances to score.

"We had two clean breaks that we didn't finish and then we had a ball that went off the post and instead of kids there following up the shot like they are supposed to do, we had two guys jogging back to the middle of the field, instead of being in the '18 yard box," he said. "If they were there, it would have been an easy tap in goal."

North Reading scored two goals under a minute apart in the second half, before Wilmington altered its line-up putting three strikers up and pushing everyone up, which allowed North Reading to break through and tap home the third goal.

"None of the goals were the keeper's (John Malone) fault," said Scanlon. "Despite losing 3-0, we actually had all kinds of chances to score."

Chris DiCecca and Nick Godzyk played well as midfielders.

Wilmington is now 1-1-1 overall and 0-1-0 in the league - it's the team's first league loss since the 2008 season.

Girls Soccer

It's four games into the season and the Wildcat varsity girls soccer team has three points, but no wins to show for it. The Wildcats tied North Andover 1-1 last week before losing for the first time Tuesday night at home to North Reading, 1-0. Wilmington is now 0-1-3 on the season.

"I'm happy with the way the team is playing," said head coach Sue Hendee. "We have a lot of freshmen playing and a lot of new faces. This is game four out of 18 so what we have seen so far it's been pretty good."

That said Hendee said that Tuesday's game wasn't the best performance for the team this season.

"We're battling some injuries with Holly (Niemiec) out with a concussion and Kaitlyn Curley out with a sprained MCL, so (Tuesday) I think we were just out of sync a little bit," said Hendee. "The second half was better than the first as we created a lot of offensive chances but didn't get a chance to finish any of them off. I was pleased with the effort and the physical style they played well, but I think we need to pass better and more accurately."

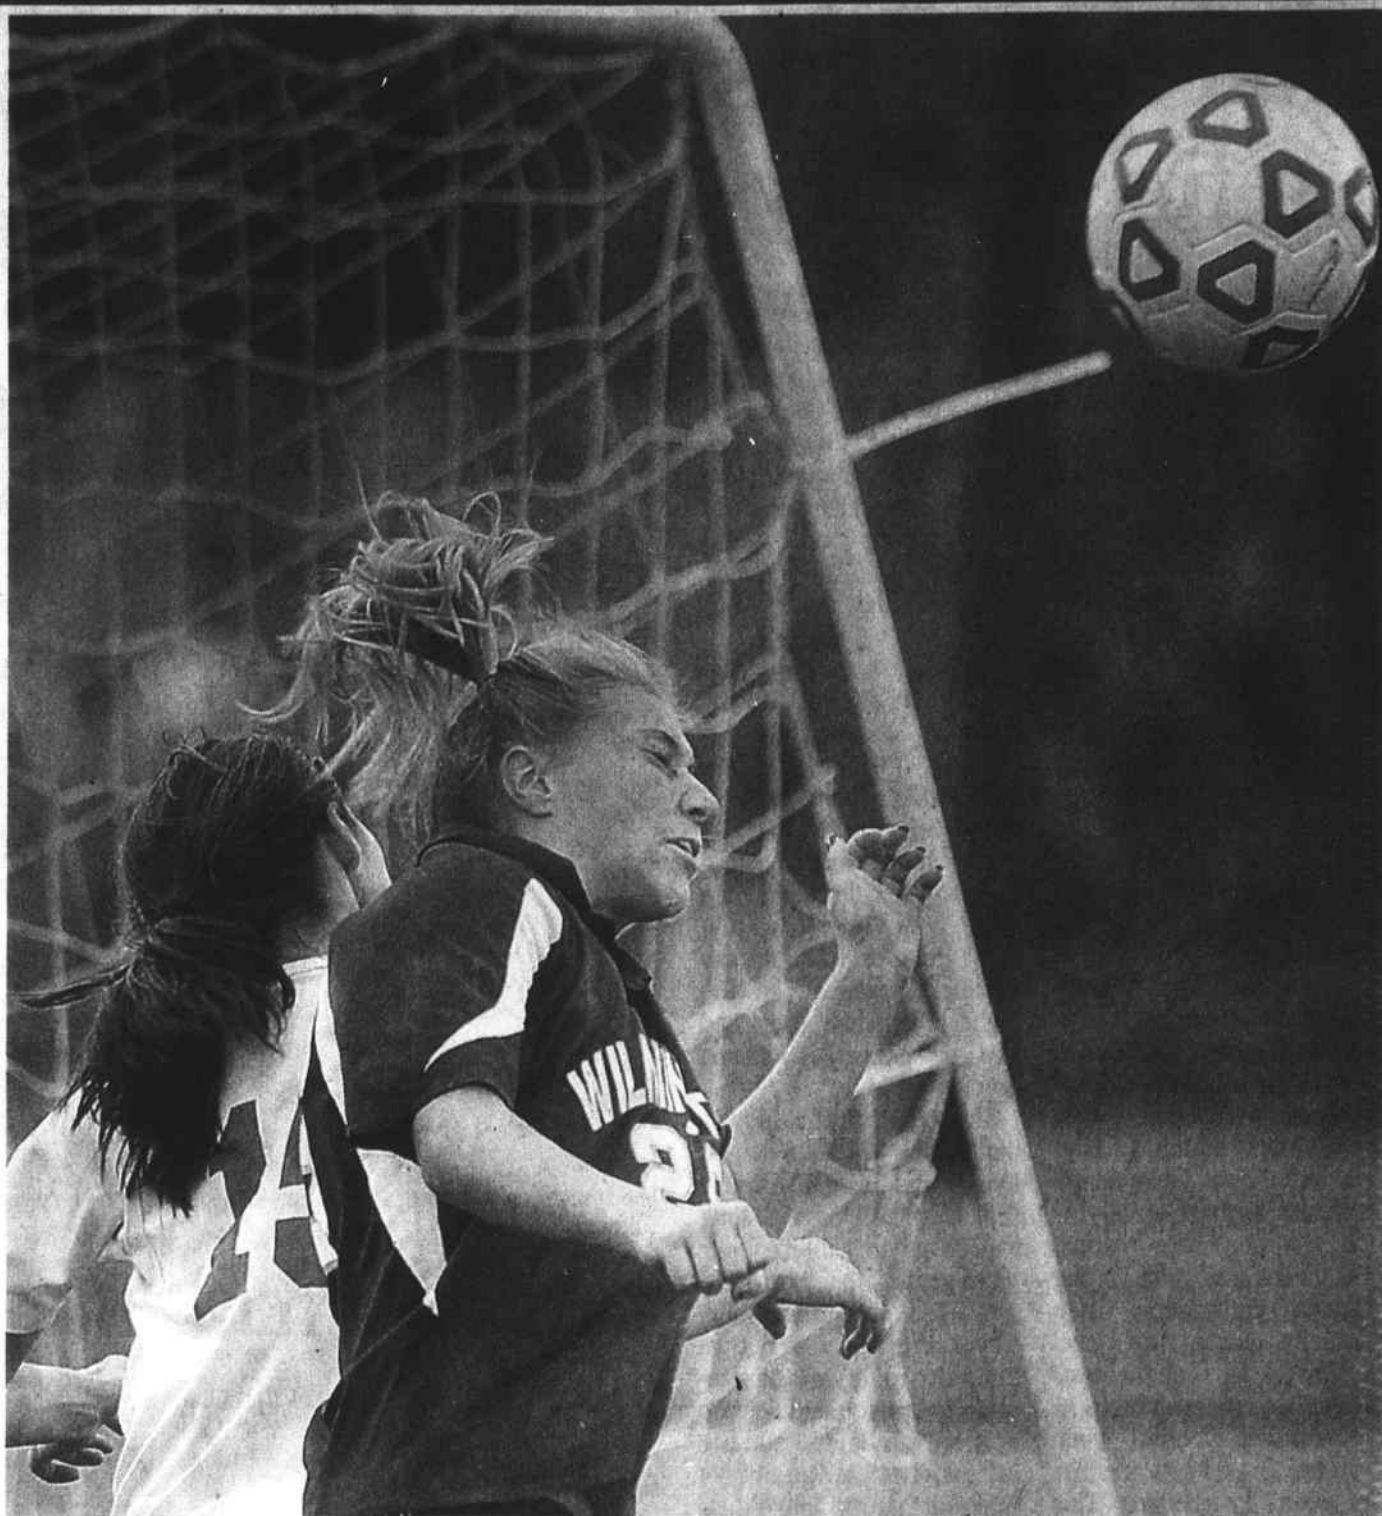

In the tie against North Andover, Rachel Grabar scored with eight minutes left on a set up by Jessica Maenza. Sarah Luz made 13 saves in goal for Wilmington, while Paige Bennett, Erin Cowden, and Rachael Mara all turned in strong performances.

Volleyball

The Wildcat Volleyball team lost three straight matches this past week putting the team's record to 1-4 overall. The Wildcats were defeated by Peabody 3-1 (25-12, 25-16, 18-25 and 25-22), North Andover 3-1 (25-20, 18-25, 30-28 and 25-8) and Lynnfield 3-0 (25-21, 25-11 and 25-17).

"I think we just need to get back to adjusting to communicating and trusting each other on the court," said first year head coach Meghan Sheehy. "On Tuesday we had a hands on practice of just doing drills that made the girls talk, call for the ball and I think that will just build the team back up into trusting each other on the court because you can't succeed if you don't trust each

Cross Country

Both the Wilmington High Boys and Girls Cross Country teams were defeated by both Hamilton-Wenham and Lynnfield last Wednesday. The boys fell by a score of 15-44 and 24-36 and the girls were victimized by 15-50 and 23-32 scores.

On the boys side, HW had the top five finishers, and on the girls side they had the top eight runners.

"The (HW) girls team seem to be the top team in the league," said head coach Tom Bradley, as the Generals are always a state contender.

Sydnee Russo was the top female for Wilmington against HW coming in 9th overall at 21:52. She was followed by Callie O'Connell (15th, 22:55), Nicole Romanzo (24:13), Amy Fisher (24:20), Lori Fletcher and Michelle Filippi. Against Lynnfield, Russo was second and Romanzo was fifth.

Turning to the boys, Stephen Halas sixth overall against HW coming across at 19:17. He was followed by Zach Sears (19:59), Andrew Sears (21:41), Ryan Kennedy (21:48), Andrew Larosa (22:05) and then Joe Fitzgerald and Linden Hayes.

The MASSC is an extension of the New Hampshire Sports and Social Club which has enjoyed great success in New Hampshire and Maine with its new concept of playing sports and meeting people.

The Club runs leagues in a variety of sports including volleyball, kickball, basketball, softball, football, soccer, and dodgeball. Dodgeball is the same game played in school for generations and is now the fastest growing game for adults seeking organized sports at all levels of play.

According to Kelleigh Domangue Murphy, owner of the Club, "The MASSC provides men and women 21 and over with a way to play fun sports and interact socially. Win or lose, the MASSC celebrates the camaraderie that all participants experience. The friendships and good times last long after the game ends. After all games, players are invited back to The Sky Box to relax and socialize."

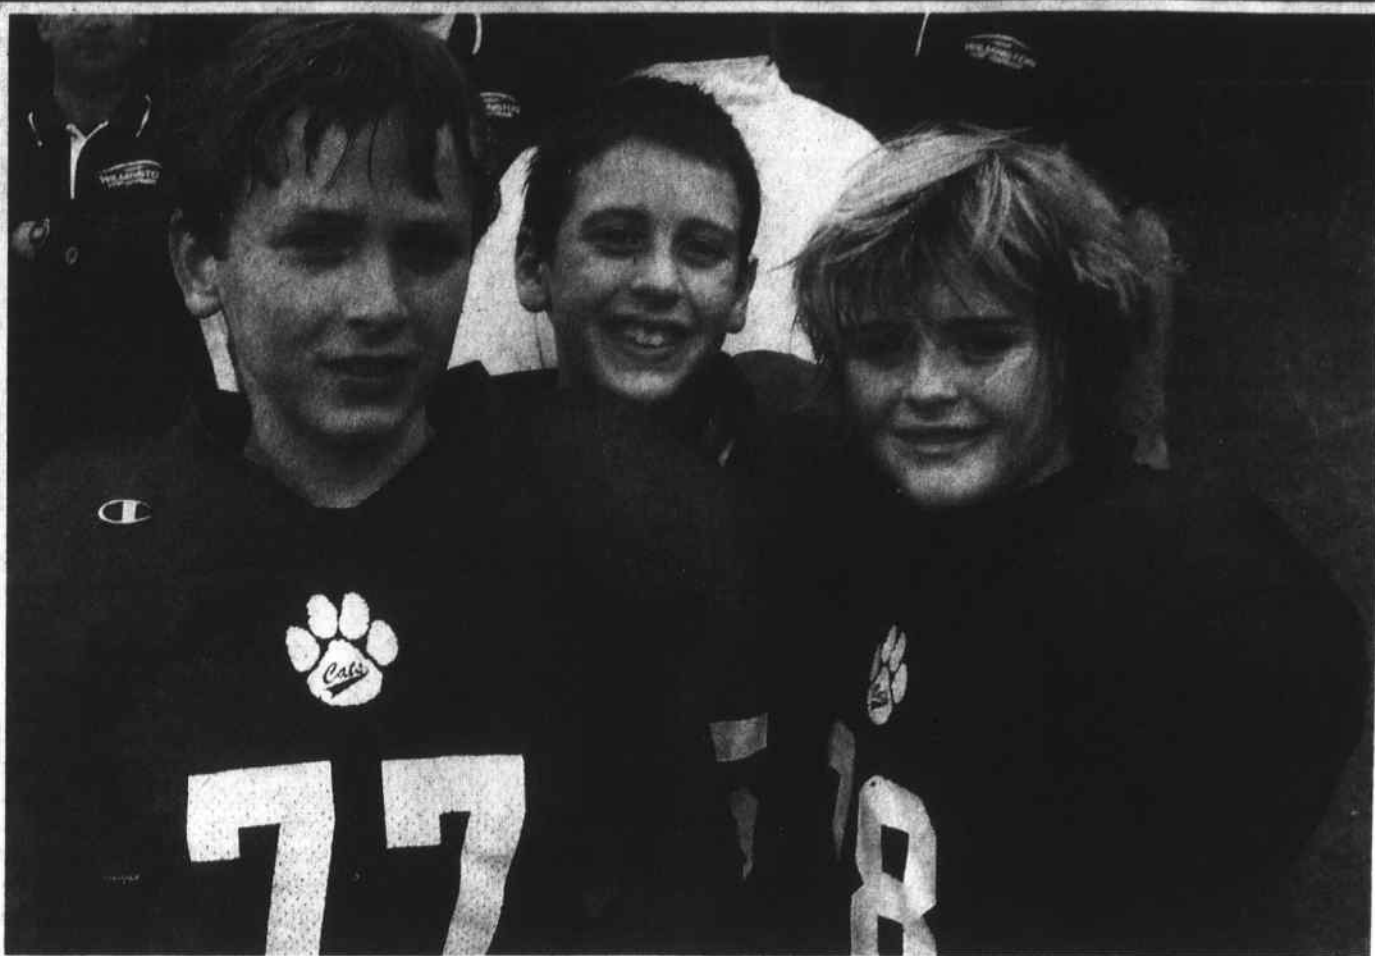

It's a great way to get exercise and meet new people."

The New Hampshire leagues have grown to include over 10,000 participants in all sport leagues since its inception in 2005.

Carlo Ferrante, owner of The Sky Box, is happy to be part of this new concept. According to Mr. Ferrante, "The MASSC came to us as one of the premier sports bars in the Merrimack Valley. I think it's a great fit and I encourage our current customers and all young adults from this area to join, play, and have a lot of fun."

The first Merrimack Valley league will play dodgeball at the Greater Lawrence Technical School in Andover starting October 13, 2010 and running each Wednesday night for nine consecutive weeks including playoffs. The pre-season party will be held October 6 at the Sky Box Restaurant and Sports Bar.

Donovan gearing up for Saturday's battle

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

Mike Donovan is no stranger to intense competition. The 2002 graduate of Tewksbury High, and current Tewksbury police officer, had a fine career as a wrestler for the Redmen — under the direction of his father, the legendary Al Donovan — finishing fifth in the state at 135 pounds during his senior season.

He also had a very good career at Bridgewater State College on the mats, wrestling all four years including having an excellent senior season at 157 pounds. But now he has taken his desire to compete to an entirely new level, competing as a Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) fighter, with a big fight coming up this Saturday night in the Tournament of Champions at the Tyngsboro Sports Center.

Donovan will be competing in the Northeast leg of the tournament while the Southern New England leg will be held October 8. Winners will advance to the next round of the tournament, likely to be held in January. Donovan, who will fight at 155 pounds, definitely feels like he will be advancing to the next round, despite being thrown a bit of a curve ball at the last minute.

When his original opponent backed out of the match on Tuesday, promoters had to find him a new opponent and Donovan will instead take on Chris Colon. Donovan is still confident in his abilities, but he does acknowledge that the change will make it tougher.

"It's kind of tough because you train so long for one guy and then it gets switched. They said I was a bad matchup for him," Donovan said of his original opponent. "It's tough because at this point I am pretty much done with the training. The week before the fight is more rest and just working on technique."

That Donovan's opponent said he was a bad matchup for him should probably come as no surprise for those who followed Donovan's high school wrestling career where he was usually a bad matchup for any opponent. That changed in college where the competition level increased, but the tougher competition only made Donovan work that much harder.

"In high school there are some easy matches where you pretty much know going in that you are going to win," Donovan said. "But there is no such thing as that in college. Every match is close."

Of course, wrestling under the tutelage of his father definitely helped him be ready.

Mike's uncle Mark Donovan is the long time coach at Shawsheen Tech as well, so there was plenty of wrestling background to help push Mike towards the sport, but he says was never pushed, but rather pushed himself into the sport.

"It was good to have all that support and surprisingly there really was not a lot of pressure to wrestle," Donovan said. "I just did it because I liked it. For a while I actually lost interest in it, but then I got back into it because I wanted to and I loved it."

All of the experience with has certainly helped him be prepared for the intensity of an MMA matchup. In the moments before a match while his opponent may be dealing with nerves, Donovan is cool as can be.

"The experience has definitely helped me. I was more nervous before a wrestling match than I am now," Donovan said. "I am usually pretty relaxed now. I think having a background in wrestling definitely helps. I think wrestling is the best base to have when going into this."

Saturday night will be Donovan's third MMA fight, and he holds a 1-1 record to this point in his career; having won his first fight in a unanimous decision, but losing his second despite dominating the match when he got caught in an arm bar from his opponent.

"That was a tough way to lose," Donovan said. "I don't want that to happen again. It was a lousy feeling."

In an effort to make sure he does not end up the losing end, Donovan has put in eight weeks of intense training in preparing for the match, with training sessions twice a day working on boxing, jujitsu, wrestling and other techniques. There is no doubt he will be ready.

And he is doing all this training while also working full time as a Tewksbury police officer.

"It is a lot of work but it is worth it," Donovan said. "It is hard with work sometimes, but I drive an hour to Bridgewater to do my training so that tells you that I am totally committed to it."

And Donovan is also looking forward to having many family and friends at his fight on Saturday night.

"My last two fights were a little further away so not as many people were there," Donovan said. "There should be a lot of people there to support me so that will be great to have."

Rooney-Mahar back on the track

Alex Rooney-Mahar is back on the race track again this season, working double duty racing in the Mini Truck Division and the Outlaw Division at Riverside Speedway located in Groveton, NH.

This past winter Alex worked diligently fixing his race truck and getting it race ready for race season. Rooney-Mahar's hard work paid off as he was crowned Track Champion in the Mini-Truck Division.

Also this season, for three days Rooney-Mahar trained with finish line Racing School which is located in Edgewater, FL. BJ McLeod from Finish Line — who has his own extensive winning record and who will race in the NASCAR Camping World Truck Series himself — came to Riverside Speedway to assist Alex.

Rooney-Mahar trained driving his Outlaw Division race car. Alex learned how to set up his race car to his needs and how the track is, learned which line to run and how to make the competition work if they really want to pass, and most importantly, that the competition is just a number. Those three days helped Rooney-Mahar a great deal and instilled a confidence in him that he will take throughout his racing career.

This race season is still going on and Rooney-Mahar's last race is in October. He has had help in his pits from his team owner and Grandfather Si Hopkins, dad Mike, his mom Marlene and his friends from NH. Alex's family & friends are always cheering in the stands from his grandmother Donna Rooney-Hopkins, grandfather Walter Rooney, Susan Blake, Shannon, Mike and Baby B Cardoso, and Cody Morgan.

This season Alex is sponsored by Blackbrook Farm & Garden, Lancaster, NH; Mike's Removal, Tewksbury, MA along with Shannon Cardoso Design Tewksbury, MA. Shannon did the graphic design for Alex's race car this season. Alex is a freshman at Shawsheen Tech.

Learn to Figure Skate in Stoneham

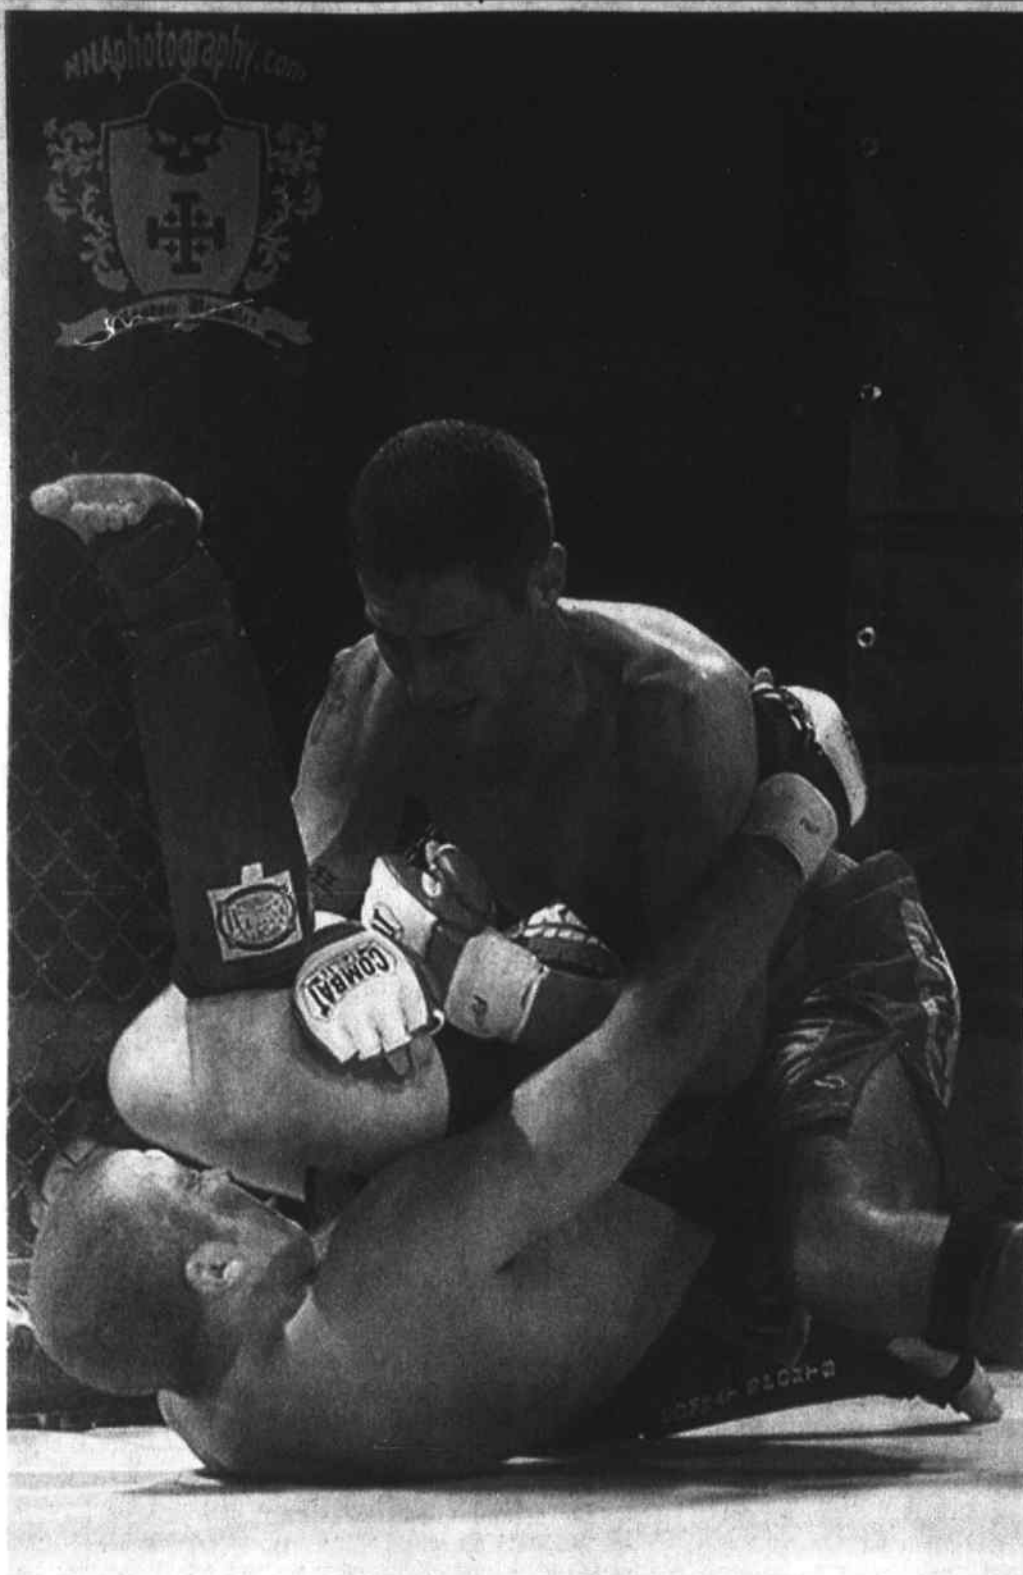

The Learn To Figure Skate Club located at the Stoneham Arena at 101 Montvale Avenue in Stoneham would like to invite everyone who is looking for a figure skating program to join us at the Stoneham Arena for group lessons on Saturdays at 1 PM or Sundays at 2 PM.

The Learn to Figure Skate Club was established in September 1978 to promote the sport of amateur figure skating. This is a family run program for over 25 years. Here's a great opportunity for children 4 1/2 yrs. or older to learn to skate on a U.S.F.S.A. Basic Badge Program.

Each class includes a 25-minute lesson and a 25-minute practice. The Badge Program encompasses the fundamentals of figure skating (Basic 1-8) for the beginner skater, and freestyle skating (Freestyle 1-6) for the intermediate and advanced. Group, semi-private, and private classes are typically offered for 9-11 weekly sessions beginning in September, November, and January.

All sessions are pro-rated to allow the flexibility of joining at any time. Group skaters enrolled in the Winter or Spring sessions are eligible to participate in the Club's Annual Ice Revue in April—a full-scale production showcasing talent of our group and private skaters.

Mello has monster game for WPI

Wilmington's Ernie Mello had a monster game for the WPI football team in their 55-0 thrashing of Becker College on Saturday. Mello, a sophomore running back, had two touchdowns in the blowout. He ran the ball five times for 26 yards and a score, and had one touchdown catch of 56 yards as well.

Mello was also a monster on special teams as he blocked a punt and came up with a fumble recovery. The Engineers boast a record of 2-1 and play Rensselaer this Saturday.

Former Tewksbury High

standout Sarah Bonomo finished in 20th place among scoring runners to lead the UMass Lowell women's cross country team to a fifth place finish at the UMass Dartmouth Shriners Invitational Saturday afternoon.

Bonomo, a senior, finished the course with a time of 18:54. UMass Lowell's top-five runners were separated by less than a minute.

One of those runners was fellow Tewksbury native Nicole Skotz. The sophomore finished in 55th place with a time of 19:52. Wilmington's Colleen Kennedy, also a sophomore, finished in 60th place with a time of 19:58.

"In the varsity women's race, we had six of our eight runners finish with PRs (personal records)," said head coach Gary Gardner. "We're extremely pleased with the women. This is probably the deepest team we've ever had here."

Tewksbury's Karla Rotondi scored what turned out to be the game-winning goal for the Worcester State field hockey team in a 4-2 road victory over WPI Tuesday. Rotondi, a senior midfielder, has three goals so far this year for the Lancers and has started in all seven of her team's games. The team boasts a record of 3-4 and will play host to Nichols next Tuesday.

Wilmington's Stephen Potner scored his first goal of the year for the UMass Lowell soccer team, but the River Hawks were unable to topple Assumption in a 4-2 loss Saturday.

Potner, a senior forward, drove home a penalty kick in the 86th minute, but it was too late as the River Hawks fell to 1-4 on the season, and 0-2 in the Northeast-10 Conference.

Sophomore Stephen Stewart had a season-high four tackles for the Bentley football team in a 52-7 drubbing of Saint Anselm on Saturday. The cornerback from Wilmington started for the Falcons as well.

One of Stewart's four tackles was solo, and he now has eight total tackles through three games. The Falcons, who also picked up their first win in the blowout, have their home opener on Friday night against New Haven.

Matt Bailey had two tackles for the Plymouth State football team in its 17-0 victory over Bridgewater State Saturday. The sophomore linebacker from Tewksbury has five tackles this year and has played in all three of his team's games.

Two former Wilmington High soccer teammates are now teammates at the collegiate level, and both are earning playing time. Colin Foley and Kevin Flaherty are freshmen at Colby-Sawyer College, and have had a hand in the team's 3-0 record in conference play.

Flaherty, a midfielder, has started all seven of the Chargers' games. He has six shots, three of them on goal, in those seven games. Foley, also a midfielder, has played in five games, starting in one.

The Chargers boast an overall record of 4-3 and will travel to Roger Williams on Saturday.

Vinny Papageorgiou of Wilmington had an easy shutout as you could possibly have on Sunday as he didn't have to make a save in Franklin Pierce's 1-0 double overtime win over New Haven.

It was Papageorgiou's third shutout of the year, and he now boasts a solid record of 4-1-0.

Wilmington's 6th Annual Half Marathon & 5K Run or Walk

200 athletes already registered

Record number of participants expected

WILMINGTON - The streets of Wilmington will be teaming with runners and walkers on Sept. 26th as the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce sponsors the 6th Annual Half Marathon and 5K Walk. Wilmington High School students will benefit with scholarships from the money raised by this event.

Due to an increased volume of expected runners for the event, organizers are strongly encouraging athletes and community members participating in the September 26 Wilmington Half Marathon and 5K to pre-register for the race to avoid excessive lines during race-day registration.

Benefits of pre-registration include a lower price, the ability to guarantee a race t-shirt, and avoiding the hassle of filling out registration forms when you would instead be preparing for the event or conversing with friends. Participation for the 13.1 and 3.1-mile races, respectively, are $30 and $25 on race day, but only $25 and $20 if applications are received in the next week. The $25 entry fee for the half-marathon provides tremendous value, as most local half-marathons cost $45 or more.

Students, whether pre-registered or registered the day of the race, are still only $10.

The ways to pre-register for these two community events are to visit the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce's website at wilmingtonbusiness.com and download a PDF version of the registration form, to register online with a credit card on runreg.com, or by obtaining a registration form at the Chamber's 226 Lowell Street office.

The sixth annual Wilmington Half Marathon & 5K run or walk is proving to be the biggest in the event's history. Starting at the new WCTV headquarters on Waltham Street in North Wilmington, this race is offering flat courses, t-shirts, awards, and many post-race activities. For more information on the race, its offerings, and registration information, please visit the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce's website at wilmingtonbusiness.com.

Handful of Pop Warner teams come away with wins

A Team

Wilmington 24, Saugus 6

It was another stellar performance by the Wilmington Pop Warner A Team winning 24-6 over the Lowell Red Raiders in week two action of Wilmington Pop Warner.

Wildcat Quarterback James O'Reagan marched the 'Cats down the field on the first drive that ended with Matt Penney bringing down the house with a 40-yard dash to the left for the Wildcats first touchdown. The offensive line of Nick Cimaglia, Ryan Adams, Michael Amato, and Nate Vince was disciplined and maintained exceptional pass protection to allow Connor Bennett to grab a 50-yard pass for another Wildcat touchdown.

The oversized Lowell Raiders where no match for the tenacious defensive play of Robert Fullerton, Ryan Broderick, Michael Daly, Andrew Lesperance and Aaron Harrington. Zach Lord came in and showed a strong performance at quarterback by leading the team and controlling the clock. The Cats did not miss a beat on offense. Kyle Callahan, Antonio Larfarello, and Jomikason Beray pounded the defense of the Red Raiders by running hard up the middle gaining yards on each play.

The scoring was completed by a heads up play on defense. The pressure was on as the defensive force of Zack Toto, Ryan, Jonathan Roberts, and John Izzary forced a bad pass that was picked off by the alert Peter Daley who ran for another Wildcat Touchdown led by the ferocious block by Austin Ferreira. The team missed the likes of Joe Scurto who was out due to injury from his aggressive play the week before.

B Team

Wilmington 18, Westborough 0

The Wildcat B Team evened their record at 1-1 by beating Westborough 18-0 at their home field at Wilmington Town Hall on Sunday. The Wildcats dominated the visiting Westborough team throughout much of the game and eventually wore them down with superior blocking and tackling.

The Wildcats had a long return on the opening kickoff by Dylan Masiello, however the long gain was called back due to a penalty and the opening drive stalled after a nice halfback pass from Dylan Masiello to Brian Neal was not enough for a first down. The defense, led by John Maga who would eventually take a seat due to a nagging injury, was able to stuff Westborough's opening drive. On their second drive the Wildcats pounded the ball with Dylan Masiello and John Reynolds.

The offensive line, led by Anthony Ferrara at center, as well as guards Thomas Magee, Fox Maxwell, and Alex Hiltz, and tackles Taylor

Dipentino, David Woods and James Carroll consistently dominated the Westborough defense. Both Dylan Masiello and John Reynolds ripped off some huge gains and Reynolds was able to find pay-dirt and score the first touchdown with some nifty outside running. Tight ends Tommy Simmons, Cody Willie, Brandon Spight and Boston Petrie provided superb blocking on the perimeter, throughout the drive.

Quarterback Joe Pineau directed the scoring drive and was in control of the offense throughout the game. Late in the first half, with the Westborough team driving for a touchdown, the Wilmington Defense came of big. Defensive ends Cody Willie, Alex Hiltz and Joe Visalli stuffed the perimeter and Dylan Masiello made a huge tackle on fourth and one to stop a Westborough drive that was heading for the end-zone.

The second half opened with an onside kick by the Wildcats kicker, Dylan Masiello, but the kick was not successful. The defense, lead by defensive lineman Fox Maxwell, David Woods, James Carroll, Thomas Magee, Taylor Dipentino, Brandon Spight and Anthony Ferrara dominated the line of scrimmage. Linebackers Dylan Masiello, Tommy Simmons and John Reynolds came up strong and the defensive secondary, lead by Joe Pineau, Brian Neal, Harry Middleton, Bradley Gilbert and Boston Petrie were able to lock down the Westborough running and passing attack.

The Westborough drive stalled at midfield because of the superior effort of the Wildcats defense. Back on offense John Reynolds ripped off a huge gain off tackle and Dylan Masiello contributed by slashing up the middle on more than one occasion. Dylan Masiello threw another Halfback pass to Brian Neal and Masiello eventually scored the Wildcats second touchdown a nice counter play.

Back on defense the Wildcats came up big on more than one occasion. Brian Neal created and recovered a Westborough fumble and John Reynolds and Tommy Simmons both intercepted passes in the secondary. Westborough tried to get back in the game by throwing the ball, but the Wilmington defensive backs of Brian Neal, Joe Pineau, Harry Middleton, Bradley Gilbert and Boston Petrie where all over their receivers. Pressure on the quarterback was provided by defensive ends Cody Wile, Alex Hiltz and Joe Visalli.

Late in the fourth quarter quarterback Joe Visalli hit Brian Neal on a nifty pass down the middle, Dylan Masiello ripped off yet another huge run and John Reynolds continued to pound the ball downfield. This drive was capped off by a touchdown by quarterback Joe Pineau on a quarterback sneak, leading to the final score of 18-0.

Inactive for the game because of injury was running back John Pasquariello. Lineman John Maga, the leader and heart of the line, gave it a try but was just not able to finish the game because of a previous injury, despite a stellar effort.

C Team

Wilmington 12, Saugus 7

The Wilmington Pop Warner C Team earned an exciting 12-7 victory against Saugus at Town Hall Field last Sunday. The Wildcats went up 12-0 in the first half, but needed a defensive stand in the closing minutes of the game to clinch the victory.

The offense moved with precision on the first two Wilmington drives, both which ended in touchdowns. On their opening possession, Charlie Minghella shouldered most of the load by carrying the ball five times for 36 yards. Quarterback Scott Newton connected on a 31-yard pass with receiver Michael Stanford down to the six-yard line. Minghella finished it off with a three-yard score and the 'Cats were up 6-0 just like that. The Wilmington defense did its part on the first Saugus possession, forcing a punt. Saugus hurt themselves with four penalties for 25 yards during the drive.

Taking over on their own 44, the Wildcat offense was efficient again with their scoring march. David Bailey had a solid 10-yard gain on an inside handoff. Newton and Stanford hooked up for another pass completion, this time for 14 yards. A 14-yard rush by Sam Jennings put the 'Cats into the red zone at the 17.

Wilmington sputtered a bit, setting up fourth down and 13 from the 20. Using an excellent block out front by Newton the quarterback, Minghella scored on a 20-yard run down the left sideline to put the hosts up 12-0. Both of the team's offensive units, Blue and White, contributed to the touchdown.

Saugus opened its next drive with a 15-yard run, getting down to the Wilmington 35. The Wildcats were trying to hold the shutout until halftime. Another excellent gain was erased by another Saugus penalty. Then on the next play, Wildcat Connor Robinson jumped in front of a pass for an interception and the Wildcats took the 12-0 advantage into halftime.

Saugus countered with a touchdown making it 12-7 early in the second half. Then in the fourth quarter, Wilmington's Minghella converted a key first down with a five-yard run. A Wilmington punt gave Saugus the ball on their own 42-yard line.

Leading by just five points, Wilmington needed to keep Saugus out of the end zone to win. Saugus had moved with ease on the previous drive, and again they had some success during this late drive. Eight rushes set them up first and 10 at the Wildcat 23. That's when the Wilmington D buckled down. Jake Ponte had a tackle in the offensive backfield for a six-yard loss on first down. On the final two plays of the game, Minghella and Ponte made the stops for no gain and the clock ran out.

Joining Minghella, Newton, Robinson, Jennings, Stanford, and Pontes on the Blue defense to help save the win were Mike Feyler, Jack Sweeney, Brendan Daly, Joe Cummings, Richie Ellen, Nick Ford, and Chance Harper.

Everyone on the 22-man roster - Zach Ahlin, Stephen Bowker, Brian Domek, Bobby Gostanian, Jake Luz, Billy McEvoy, Connor Musto, and Brendan Thorpe - played a part in the victory.

D2

Billerica 12, Wilmington 6

The Wilmington Pop Warner D2 team took an early 6-0 lead against Billerica D2 on Sunday but wound up dropping a close game 14-6. The Wildcats scored on the seventh play of their opening drive when RB John Kenney took the handoff on a reverse and ran 33 yards for the score. The extra point attempt was not good and the Wildcats clung to the 6-0 lead for much of the first half before giving up the tying touchdown. Billerica converted the extra point to take a 7-6 lead into halftime and that score remained until Billerica scored with three minutes remaining in the game to take a 14-6 lead.

The offense was paced by running backs John Kenney (10 carries, 55 yards and a touchdown), Joshua Smith (6 carries, 23 yards), Joey Dumoulin (6 carries, 31 yards) and Ryan Wackrow (5 carries, 4 yards). Quarterback Kyle Kenyon also had two carries for four yards. The offensive line played much better this week opening up holes to allow the offense to rush for over 100 yards on the day. Jared Marquard, Mark Companschi, Patrick McAndrew, Patrick Carroll, Riley McCue, Aaron Soto, Matt Cook, Shane Calla and Ryan Brewer anchored that unit.

The Wilmington defense was strong all day. Defensive Ends Ryan Wackrow and Joshua Smith each had a sack and Nose Tackle Nick Kullman forced a fumble and had three tackles. Defensive Tackle Sam Vince also had a solid game. The Linebackers were solid with Pat Carroll, Mark Companschi, Joey Dumoulin, and Peter Marino anchoring the defense. The defensive backs, led by Corner's Cameron Gilbert and John Kenney as well as Safety Ben Pastore combined for ten tackles and excellent pass coverage

E1

Wilmington vs Saugus

The E1 Wilmington Wildcats fought extremely hard this past Sunday vs Saugus Sachems. The game began with a 60 yard sprint to the left by Connor Rooney returning a kickoff for a touchdown behind the exceptional blocking brigade led by Zach Kincade, Mark Valente, Shane Roberts, and Dillon McCarthy.

The defense came on and held strong with aggressive play by David Fraser, Mikie Hersom, Sean Kelly, and Shane Penney. Quarterback Christian Robarge continued to lead the charge. Bailly Smith pounded the ball up the middle time and time again gaining yards every time behind great blocking by Chris Pearson, Sean Kelley and Center, Nolan Fitzgerald. Joe Demonico finished off the drive with a great run to the end zone for the second score of the game.

The Saugus Sachems scored two unanswered touchdowns and scored one extra point.

The Wilmington offensive line led the way as Alex Boehm, Bryan Davey, Jason Davey, and James Defeo cleared the way for the running backs to take the ball to the one yard line where they Cats just came up short. The team gave 100% the whole game.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-Up

Rams Golf team off to torrid 6-0 start

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech golf team had just two matches this past week, as opposed to four in the opening week of the season, but although their workload was lessened the results remained the same as the Rams won two more matches to improve their record to 6-0 on the season.

Last Wednesday on their home course, Patriot Golf Course in Bedford the Rams picked up a Colonial Athletic League victory over Assabet Valley by a score of 152-201 and they followed that up with an impressive non-league victory over Rockport by a score of 161-168, once again at Patriot Golf Course.

In the win over Rockport, the Rams were challenged more than they had been all season, but they responded to the challenge with some clutch performances, none more so than number one player, junior Stephen Murphy who was the last player on the course for Shawsheen and he responded by shooting a 37 to take overall medalist honors and also seal the victory.

"We don't play match play, so we put Stephen in there with the last group because he is just so consistent and can just do so many things," Shawsheen coach Tom Struthers said. "It was great to have him out there in that situation."

Other top performers for the Rams were senior captain Dan Jacobs who shot a 40, while junior Chris Clayton shot a 39 and junior Spencer Sawicki shot a 45.

In a scoring system where eight golfers play for each team, but only the top four count, the Rams were able to lean on their top players to lead them to victory, but Struthers knows he will need better efforts all the way through his team's lineup if they are going to achieve their season long goals as the bottom half of the lineup struggled against Rockport.

"Our big thing this year is being ready mentally for the vocational tournament as well as the state sectionals later in the year," Struthers said. "I have no worries about our top three with Murphy, Clayton and Jacobs, but it's finding that four, five and six player that will be the challenge for us."

The win over Rockport was a big one for the Rams although it was a non league win. While Shawsheen has dominated league play over the past five years, winning five consecutive league crowns, including going undefeated in the past two seasons, non league matchups have been more challenging.

Last season, Shawsheen lost matches to both Austin Prep and Rockport, and this year they have picked up wins against both schools.

"It's nice to win those non league matches because those are usually our hardest matches," Struthers said. "I had explained to the kids before this match that the reason we have these kinds of matches to test them and to push them."

The Rams were not tested quite as much in their previous match against CAL rival Assabet as they coasted to the 152-202 victory. Junior Spencer Sawicki led the way for the Rams with an astounding 36 to become the overall medalist.

"Spencer has a real easy swing and he just crushes the ball. He hits it as far as a five wood as other kids hit it with their driver," Struthers said. "And in this match he just had everything clicking."

The Rams also got strong efforts from Jacobs (37) Clayton (39) and Murphy (40).

Shawsheen will look to continue their winning ways on Thursday on the road against CAL rival Minuteman and will then take on non league rival Austin Prep in a rematch on Friday, also on the road.

Cross Country

Both the boys and girls cross country teams at Shawsheen Tech got off to strong starts this season with the girls sweeping a tri-meet with Mystic Valley and PMA last Wednesday, while on the same day the boys earned a win over Mystic Valley. Both meets were held at Shawsheen.

On the girls side the Lady Rams downed Mystic Valley by a score of 24-34 and routed PMA to the tune of a 20-38 final.

Although Mystic's Fallon Bushee took first place with a time of 23:17 over the 3.12 mile course the Rams took four of the next six spots to take control of the meet. Senior Johanne LeGrand led the way for Shawsheen with a time of 23:42, finishing second overall, while Jessica Goodhue of Tewksbury was fifth overall in 26:16.

Goodhue was the first of three straight Shawsheen finishers, with Amanda Leonard following in 27:19 and Brianna Lynch coming in at 27:27.

Samantha Richardson and Christen Aliperta rounded out the top ten for the Lady Rams with Richardson taking ninth overall in 28:05 and Aliperta taking 10th in 28:12.

In the boys 20-38 win over Mystic Valley, it was once again the depth of the team that carried them to victory. Mystic took first place behind the efforts of Zach Kelso who finished the 3.12 mile course in 19:25.

Shawsheen however, took the next five spots, with Ryan Tiribassi right on Kelso's heels in a time of 19:27, and Matt Bonomo taking third in 19:44.

The rest of the top six was rounded out by the Rams Matt Mann in 20:11, Devon Dembowski in 20:17 and Richard Silk in 20:23. Ben Bourne was the other Rams top ten finisher, taking ninth place in 20:25.

Volleyball

The Shawsheen volleyball team is off to a fantastic start to the young season with a perfect 3-0 record. The Lady Rams have also still not lost a set through the three matches, downing Commonwealth Athletic Conference rivals Chelsea, Fellowship and North Shore all by scores of 3-0.

Shawsheen coach Chet Flynn was confident in his team before the season, but even he did not expect them to start off quite this strong.

"It is somewhat of a surprise. Not so much that we are undefeated, but I am impressed with the way we have played," Flynn said. "We have pretty much dominated all of our matches. I have been impressed that the girls have not let down at all. Sometimes if the other team is down you might get a little sloppy but we have not done that. I am real happy with the way we are playing."

Indeed the Rams have been dominant, beating Chelsea last Tuesday on the road by scores of 25-9, 25-12, 25-8 and following that up with scores of 25-12, 25-8, 25-7 over Fellowship at home on Thursday. The Lady Rams wrapped up their impressive week with a 25-9, 25-6, 25-8 rout of North Shore at Shawsheen on Friday.

"Chelsea had played Greater Lawrence very well and it was our first match so I was a little nervous but after the first set we really took control," Flynn said.

"Fellowship is in a bit of a rebuilding year, but still it was nice to see the way we dominated right from the start. North Shore was more of the same thing. They have a new coach and had already won one match, but we handled them very well."

With the dominant start to the season, the Lady Rams there have obviously been many standouts for Shawsheen, but there have been a few who have stood out more than any others.

"We have been getting extremely strong setting from Jess Houghton and she, Allyson Trayah (of Tewksbury) and Laura Sorenson have all been dominant with their serve," Flynn said. "All three of them have gone on streaks where they have served seven or eight consecutive points which has been huge for us."

Flynn also praised the play of outside hitter Katie Voltaggio of Tewksbury.

"Katie has been very effective for us," Flynn said. "She is off to a very strong start."

Heading into the season, Flynn felt that serving would be a strength of the team, and thanks to Trayah, Houghton and Sorenson it certainly has been. But that has not been the only thing carrying the Lady Rams in the early going of the season.

"Our strength has been our serving, but we are also covering an awful lot of floor defensively," Flynn said. "We have been very focused defensively and that has helped our whole game."

The Lady Rams will take on defending league champ Greater Lawrence on Thursday at home in their biggest test of the young season.

"That will be a real nice test for us, to see where we really are," Flynn said.

Boys Soccer

The Shawsheen boys soccer team picked up their first win of the season on Monday afternoon at home against CAC rival Greater Lowell with a thrilling 1-0 victory. The win improved the Rams record on the season to 1-3-1 and coach Dick Barriss is hoping it will get them going in the right direction as they continue their CAC schedule this week.

The Rams got the game winning goal from sophomore fullback Brian Gallagher who scored off a corner kick from junior midfielder Dan Suarez with eight minutes left in the game. Suarez made a nice cross pass to the front of the net and Gallagher out leapt his defenders and put the ball in off his chest to secure the Rams first victory of the season.

"At that point in the game it was starting to look like a 0-0 tie and I was thinking well, I guess that is ok," Barriss said. "But I had told the kids before the game that I really wanted us to get all three wins this week so it was great to start off with this one."

Junior goalie Rob Goodell continued his strong play to start the season. Although wins have been hard to come by for the Rams, Goodell has played well in the Shawsheen net. It is his first time playing goalie at the varsity level and he has surprised Barriss with how quickly he has become such a key member of the team.

"He played real well. He made two breakaway saves," Barriss said. "He has certainly solidified the goalie position. He has been the biggest surprise of the year. Going into the season, goalie was probably my biggest concern just due to our inexperience, but he has come in and done a great job."

Also playing well for Shawsheen were senior fullback Sean Plunkett, freshman fullback TJ Barriss, junior fullback Alex Turk, junior midfielder Nicco Riparo and senior midfielder Jon Davidson.

The defensive effort for Shawsheen has been strong all season with players like Plunkett, Barriss and Turk playing above and beyond expectations.

"I knew we would be young on defense, and was not sure how strong we would be, but they have played real well," Barriss said. "What I did not anticipate was how difficult it would be for us to score goals."

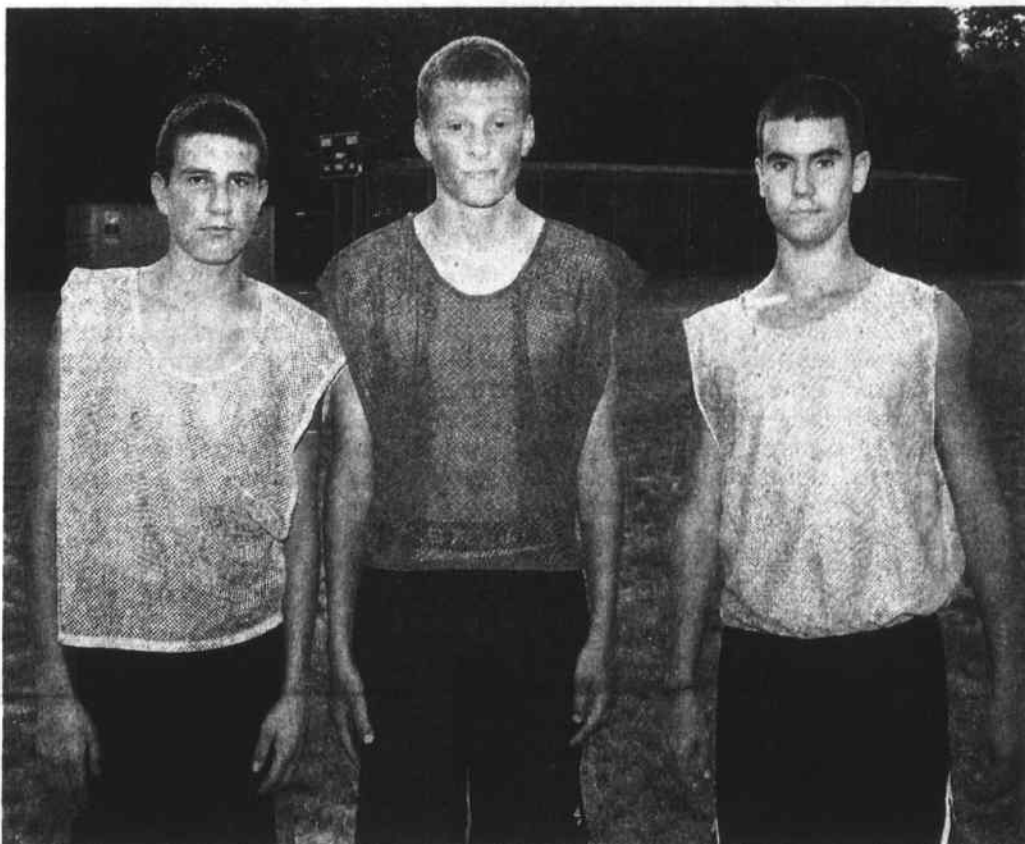

The Rams have struggled to put the ball in the net, dropping their previous game 3-0 to Malden last Friday, and dropping a 3-2 decision to CAC rival Lynn Tech the day before.

In the Lynn Tech game the Rams got a pair of assists from Nicco Riparo. Riparo has been outstanding all season for the Rams.

"I have been very pleased with the way Nicco has been playing," Barriss said.

Brett Hanlon scored the Rams first goal of the game, 15 minutes into the contest, and senior Mike DiGiorgio pulled the Rams to within 3-2 with 15 minutes left off a Riparo corner kick.

Barriss is hoping that the team's first win on Monday will help them gain confidence considering how hard they have been working this season.

"From the kids point of view they are feeling that they are not as good as they have been in the past because of their record. But the reality is they are just as good as they were in the past," Barriss said. "I am very pleased with what they have given me. I can't complain about that at all. They are a pleasure to coach, is what they are."

Girls Soccer

The Shawsheen girls soccer team is off to a 4-0 start to the season, picking up two more wins this week with triumphs over non league rival Blackstone last Thursday, preceded by a win over CAC rival PMA on Wednesday.

Against Blackstone the Lady Rams came away with a 1-0 victory, but it may have been a game that will cost them in terms of injuries.

"It was a little tougher game than normal against them, and there was some rough play," Shawsheen coach Doug Michaud said. "They knocked out a few of our players. It was a very physical game with a lot of shirt pulling and a lot of kids being taken down."

Marissa Irwin and Erin Plunkett took significantly hard hits, with both suffering head injuries. Michaud is hoping both can make it back for the Lady Rams key game against Greater Lowell on Wednesday, but their status is uncertain to say the least.

Shawsheen's only goal of the game came courtesy of freshman Rachel Blanchard of Wilmington off an assist from sophomore Kristen Carroll of Tewksbury and Plunkett midway through the first half.

"It was a good play all the way through. We had a string of passes down the sideline and then Erin had the ball at the top of the corner with a defender on her and she sent it across to Kristen who got it to Rachel who tipped it into the goal," Michaud said.

The Lady Rams also got some outstanding goaltending from junior Jen Curtis who picked up her third shutout of the season with 12 saves.

"Jen made some really big saves for us," Michaud said. "We were on their side of the field for most of the game, but when they came down to our end they had some very good chances and she had to make some good stops."

The 1-0 victory for Shawsheen was their closest game of the season and other than the injuries Michaud feels like it will be a good experience for his team.

"It allowed for a lot of coaching points at the next practice," Michaud said. "I think they got a little flustered with the score only 1-0 because it was a little different for them, but hopefully they will learn from it."

The day before against PMA was a little more typical of how the season has gone for Shawsheen with a 5-0 win. Shawsheen got a pair of goals and an assist from sophomore Arianna Medeiros of Tewksbury as well as a goal each from Irwin, Carroll and Blanchard.

At press time for the Town Crier the Lady Rams were preparing to take on Greater Lowell in a rematch of last year's sectional semi-finals where Shawsheen was eliminated after defeating Greater Lowell three times earlier in the season. Michaud expects his team to be more than ready to play even if they are missing some players due to injuries.

"The game definitely means a lot to them," Michaud said. "They really want to get a win over them. It should be a very interesting game. It is always a fight with them."

Football team falls to champs

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA - The Shawsheen Tech football team opened their season on Saturday afternoon at Samuel J. Cassidy Field with a heartbreaking 14-9 loss to defending Division 4 Super Bowl champion Northeast Metro Tech of Wakefield. The Rams scored with just over nine minutes to go in the game to take a 9-6 lead, but Northeast scored the game winning touchdown with just 1:27 left in the game to hand the Rams a very frustrating loss that had to leave them muttering to themselves about missed opportunities and untimely penalties.

Twice in the first half the Rams drove inside the Northeast 15 yard but each time they came away without any points and trailed 6-0 at the half. Shawsheen totally dominated the second half, particularly on defense, holding Northeast to (-17) yards of total offense before their final drive, but that final drive was a killer for the Rams and their fans.

With the Rams leading 9-6 with 4:01 remaining in the game, Northeast took over possession on their own 15 yard line with one last chance to avoid the upset. After a 13 yard completion to start the drive, their first first down of the second half, Shawsheen forced a loss of two on a running play and Devin Connearney and Nathan Logan dropped quarterback

Donato DiPietrantonio for a seven yard sack on second down.

But on 3rd-and-19, Northeast pulled off the play of the game with a stunning 32 yard option pass from running back Bobby Novello to Corey Thurell to the Ram 48 yard line for a first down. Novello was the star of the drive for the Golden Knights, converting a key fourth and one with a 22 yard gain later in the drive and finally scoring the game winning touchdown on a 16 yard swing pass from quarterback Donato DiPietrantonio.

The Rams had one final opportunity, moving from their 40 to the Northeast 37 yard line, but could not complete the comeback, as Northeast intercepted a Shawsheen pass inside the five yard line with eight seconds left.

"What a tough one this is," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "You just can't make that many mistakes and expect to win a game. We had way too many penalties."

Indeed they did, as the Rams were flagged for six penalties for 65 yards. It was not so much the number of penalties, however, as it was the timing of them. In their opening series of the game, Shawsheen marched from their 35 yard line to the Northeast 25 before consecutive holding penalties moved them back.

The Rams would ultimately move down to the Northeast

15 yard line, but the damage had been done as the Shawsheen momentum had definitely been halted and the 12 play drive ended on a Northeast interception of a Ryan Woolaver (14-for-28, 150 yards, 1 TD, 2 INTs) pass near the goal line.

Northeast converted that turnover into points, going on an eight play, 90 yard drive. Just as the Shawsheen drive had been halted by big penalties, Northeast's first possession was aided by a big penalty as a 15 yard personal foul call for a horse collar tackle aided the Golden Knights in their drive for their first score, moving the ball from the Northeast 41 to the Shawsheen 44 yard line.

Five plays later, a 21 yard run by Jonathan Hughes on a perfectly executed inside reverse made the score 6-0 after the failed two point conversion rush with 1:36 left in the first quarter.

"We killed ourselves with holding penalties in the first half," Costabile said. "Those two holding calls were huge."

A fumble recovery by Shawsheen later in the half turned into another impressive Shawsheen drive as they moved from their 41 yard line all the way to the Northeast three yard line behind the running and passing of Wilmington native Woolaver, who connected with Tewksbury's Bob Greenwood on a 13 yard pass and also picked up 10 yards rushing as part of a 14 play drive. Once again, however, the drive ended in frustration as Woolaver was sacked by Northeast A.J. Ortiz on the final play of the half.

Shawsheen made the score 6-3 with 3:45 left in the third quarter on a 22 yard field goal by Devonn Pratt, capping a 10 play drive. The good news for the Rams was that they were finally on the scoreboard, the bad news of course was that once again had driven inside the Northeast 10 yard line, this time to the five yard line, and came away with only three points.

And once again it was a penalty that helped to deny the Rams, as an illegal procedure violation on third and goal from the five moved them back to the 10 and they were unable to make up the lost yards and had to settle for the field goal.

After a fumble recovery by nose tackle Dave Summiel of Tewksbury gave the Rams the ball at the Northeast 40 yard line, the offense kicked into gear and took the lead on a spectacular catch in the corner of the end zone by senior tight end Derek Bent with 9:12 left in the game. Bent had two Northeast defenders draped all over him and another screening him as he tried to deflect the ball away, but he still came down with the catch as he was falling to the ground.

The extra point failed, but the Rams led 9-6. In the end, however, it was Northeast who came away with the victory, leaving the Rams to search for answers heading into next week's non-league tilt at home against Georgetown.

"We did some things well, and we moved ball effectively at times, but there are so many things we can do better," Costabile said. "We just have to build on the things we did right."

Two Wilmington Mite hockey teams busy on the ice

On a gorgeous Sunday morning the Wilmington Mite 3 Youth Hockey team made the trip to West Newton with hopes of continuing their winning streak. The game started quickly for West Newton as they scored two unanswered goals within the first five minutes of play.

Finding themselves in a hole, Coach Crowley's Team wanted no part of it, as they struck back hard. Gina Bertolami, Cam Humphrey, Joey Cornish all tenaciously got into the mix playing tough hockey trying to get the puck.

Andrew Gallucci was all over the place as he led multiple charges up ice. Owen White put out all the stops prompting the refs to call him a "ringer".

Liam Crowley and Evan Munro helped Jack Farrell start the scoring as he ripped a shot past the West Newton goaltender from the blue line. Conor Peterson and Derek Gallucci were relentless on defense stopping play after play helping Liam Crowley and Colin Sainato find Peter Kourkoutas for a shot in the top corner. James Kourkoutas took the puck from Center Ice using his speed and scored his first of the season.

Just like that, the score had been flipped from 0-2, to taking the lead 3-2.

The second period started with Wilmington continuing their dominance as Colin Sainato put away his 1st goal from James Kourkoutas and Aidan Churchill.

Finding themselves down two goals, The West Newton team turned on the offensive attack trying to catch up as they put shot after shot on Owen White. The stick saves kept on coming as Jack Farrell cleared the defensive end resembling someone that used to have that number "77".

But as the game had begun, things changed quickly, West Newton scored three unanswered goals putting West Newton ahead 5-4. The Wilmington Mites found themselves behind one, momentum had shifted yet again, but that did not deter

Wilmington from trying to come back.

Owen White made key save after key save, Jim McCarron skated from the opposite end of the ice to break up a play keeping the puck alive for one last try at a scoring chance. But, time ran out, and the victory went to West Newton. Oh, how nice it would have been to have a few more minutes, but that wasn't the case.

Hockey Mite 2 team took their first loss of the season on Friday, going against Andover at Merrimack College. Alex Fitzler again played goal, turning in a better performance than the final score indicated. Andover pressured the defense and created opportunities from turnovers, often leaving Fitzler with little assistance. Joseph Hartzell, Aidan Elkins, Matt Vinal, and Harry Serounian anchored the defense, joined later in the game by versatile Anthony Bowker, who had started the game at center.

The Wildcat offense was highlighted by Max Churchill scoring two goals in the second period, skating on the right side along with left wing Robbie Courtney and center Brendan Ardito. Later in the third period, C.J. Petrie cashed in on the power play when he scored on a rebound during relentless pressure following the offensive zone faceoff win by Maura Fiorenza. Nathan Alberti, Matthew Ardito, A.J.

Lavigne, and David Bazile completed the forward lines.

With a week off until their next game on October 2, the Mite 2 team has plenty of practice time to work on the passing skills and smart positioning that will keep them in front of the Valley League competition.

For more information on upcoming games go to www.wilmingtonyouthhockey.org. The in-house Buzzer program for beginning players is now open for registration, with play to begin soon.

Locals to be inducted into Athletic Hall of Fame

By PAUL FEELY

There's a long tradition of top local athletes from the Middlesex East area attending UMass-Lowell and becoming members of the Riverhawks athletic programs, and later this fall three former athletes with local ties will become some of the newest members of that school's athletic Hall of Fame.

To celebrate the University's Soaring With Pride campaign and the Hall of Fame Sports Gallery at the Tsongas Center, the UMass Lowell Athletic Hall of Fame will induct 10 new members - eight former student-athletes and two administrators - on Saturday, Oct. 23 and Saturday, Nov. 6.

The 2010 class is the Hall's largest since its inception in 1977 when nine members were inducted.

Among the list of inductees are Claire Chamberlain (Chelmsford, Mass.), a former physical education professor from 1971-08 and coach; and Denise Legault (Atkinson, N.H.), also a former administrator and coach, both of whom pioneered the development of women's athletics at Lowell State College and the University of Lowell. Also earning induction were Billy Rizos (Lowell, Mass.), a standout quarterback from 1989-92; hockey standout Christian Sbrocca (Montreal, Quebec), who played from 1992-96; Donna Mills (a Lynnfield, Mass. native), who starred in softball from 1993-96; and Diane DiRoma (Belmont, N.H.), a women's basketball standout from 1993-97.

Katie Toomey (who works in Burlington), a volleyball standout from 1995-98, will also be inducted alongside former pitcher Nate Linstad (Chelmsford, Mass.) (1998-02), field hockey goalkeeper Patrice Mendoza (a Wilmington, Mass. native) (2000-03) and men's soccer defender Jonathan Curran (Tyngsboro, Mass.) (2001-04).

Curran's induction marks the first brother tandem in the Hall's history. His brother, Brandon, also a men's soccer standout, was inducted in 2008.

The following is a look at the Hall of Fame credentials for each of the three athletes with Middlesex East-area connections, as provided by UMass Lowell.

PATRICE MENDOZA (FIELD HOCKEY 2000-03)

In Patrice Mendoza's first two years, the UMass Lowell field hockey team posted consecutive records of 7-12. By her senior year, it was contending for the NCAA Championship.

Perhaps the best goalkeeper in UMass Lowell field hockey history, Mendoza (a native of Wilmington) was one of a handful of athletes who were instrumental in elevating the program to national prominence, a standing which it has maintained to date.

"Patrice was one of the most focused athletes I have ever coached, whether she was in a repetitive drill or playing for a national championship," said UML Head Coach Shannon Hlebichuk. "She had one focus: keeping the ball out of the net. She played an integral part in the transformation of the field hockey program nine years ago."

After a 9-9 record and its first postseason bid in years, UMass Lowell peaked over the second half of the 2003 season and captured the first of five straight Northeast-10 Conference Tournament championships and advanced to the NCAA Championship match against 11-time titlist Bloomsburg University, despite falling 4-1.

Mendoza put forth her best numbers her junior and senior years. As a junior, she maintained a 1.21 goals against average with an .866 save rate and seven shutouts - very telling figures considering the River Hawks finished 9-9.

As a senior, she nursed a 1.12 GAA and an .832 save percentage with a school-record nine shutouts as UMass Lowell went 15-7.

She remains prominent in the record books, holding benchmarks for matches in a career (77) and shutouts in a career

Movie Reviews

"The Town" a tightly wound heist film

"THE TOWN" is an action-packed "heist film" that is set in Charlestown. It is an adaptation of Chuck Hogan's novel Prince of Thieves. Ben Affleck both directs and stars in this film. The movie isn't extraordinary, but rings true to anyone who has spent time in Charlestown.

"THE TOWN"
GRADE: ****

"The Town" refers to Charlestown, a Boston neighborhood known for Irish gangs crime, and Hollywood film crews - the latest headed up by one of the city's own, Ben Affleck, making his sophomore effort behind the camera.

Ben Affleck stars as Doug MacRay and Jeremy Renner plays James "Jem" Coughlin. Affleck also directed and co-wrote the film, working from Chuck Hogan's novel Prince of Thieves.

At its core, The Town is a heist film with some romance thrown in. It includes three robberies, which shows the desperate (or is it greedy?) nature of these characters, that they would even try three such robberies all in a row.

In the first heist, the gang of four nab bank manager Claire Keesey (Rebecca Hall) but then release her soon after. The gang, headed by Doug (Affleck) and Jem (Renner), discover she lives nearby. Under the guise of recon work to find out if she revealed anything important to the FBI, Doug initiates contact with her, which, before long, turns romantic.

From there, Doug and Claire become more and more involved in a relationship, while he continues to rob banks, though with less and less enthusiasm than prior to meeting her.

The crew has the FBI closing in, led by dogged agent Adam Frawley (Jon Hamm).

Other than Claire, every character in The Town is very tightly wound, and by the end even she is caught up in the excitement of the chase and the violence.

"The Town" isn't extraordinary, but it is something special, and rings true to anyone who has ever spent some time in Charlestown. Affleck is proving to be one of the more talented directors working in Tinseltown.

"THE AMERICAN"
GRADE: ***

"The American", a slow-moving, intelligent thriller, is less about the death that fills the life of a professional assassin (played by George Clooney), and more about the life he still harbors in his soul.

There is enough action, intrigue and suspense in "The American," the spare, tightly-wound new thriller starring George Clooney. But I think the scene in the park is where the film's true heart lies. This is less the story of a man who kills for a living, than what that life has extracted from his soul.

Clooney plays Jack (but sometimes he is called Edward, sometimes Mr. Butterfly) is a man of precision who keeps his emotions locked up tight.

He works at his profession in a cold and calculating manner - on display in no better way than it is in the first mission we see Jack on in Sweden. His lack of feeling is almost scary.

One of the best scenes in the movie, which involves no action at all, focuses on Jack and a close friend, a priest, walking through an Italian park talking about sin.

The priest asks the man if he would like to confess. Jack says he has good reasons for everything he's done, and reverses the situation by pressing the priest about his own shortcomings.

It's a great scene, and allows Clooney to show his ability as an actor - he spends much of the rest of the movie squinting his eyes and tightening his jaw. He is clearly a man who has grown afraid of attachment.

An old friend tells him "Don't make any friends, Jack, you used to know that."

Of course, he does - he starts to get a little too close to a prostitute he frequents, Clara (Violante Placido), and the real trouble starts for him.

Director Anton Corbijn ("Control") does a good job keeping the tension at a high edge, and "The American" is a good late-summer take because of it.

"THE LAST EXORCISM"
GRADE: ***

"The Last Exorcism" is a good horror movie that could have bordered on great, if it had carried the same level of intensity right on through to its conclusion.

Director Daniel Stamm has put together what amounts to a fake documentary that contains supposedly "found" footage, and tells the story of a preacher who thinks exorcisms are fake and unnecessary, and documents what he believes will be an exorcism that will prove to the world he is right.

The film has terrific performances, more humor than you would expect in this type of film, a few genuine scares - and a terrible ending, one that all-too-easily and nicely wraps things up in a neat little bow before the credits roll. It doesn't negate the good things that have gone before, but it cheapens the experience.

Patrick Fabian plays the Rev. Cotton Marcus, who comes from a long line of preachers but is more of a showman than anything else. The movie does a good job of setting up Marcus' story, so well that you actually end up feeling for him, in spite of his cynicism.

Marcus and a film crew head for Louisiana to honor a request for an exorcism, a request made for Nell Sweetzer (Ashley Bell), whose still recovering from her mother's death. Nell seems sweet enough, except for the fact that her father thinks she's killing most of their farm animals.

The "found" footage movie idea was hot when "The Blair Witch Project" came out many years ago, but the director successfully resurrects it here, offering a couple of twists.

Bell is outstanding as

Nell. How could she possibly be doing the things she's accused of?

The actors made the most of what they were given to work with - if only the writers had penned a more believable ending, this could have been a classic.

"PIRANHA 3D"
GRADE: ***

The three stars above has nothing to do with levels of cinematic greatness - there are no fears of a school of piranha showing up on Oscar night to accept an award. What this film does well is identify its target audience, realize what the expectations of those customers are, and then hit the mark.

And they nailed it this time.

The first "Piranha", released in 1979, was a cheesy horror film that drew a large fan base, mostly as an homage to "Jaws".

The new version gives you exactly what you would expect to see - lots of blood, bikinis, and teens meeting their demise in a spring break feeding frenzy.

The fun starts with Richard Dreyfuss all but officially reprising his role as Hooper from the original Jaws, who is fishing when a fissure opens under a lake, releasing a herd of prehistoric piranha into a lake resort community. It also features Elizabeth Shue as the sheriff with a heart in the community, and Ving Rhames as a cop who eventually takes on the fish with a motor-boat propeller.

The producers opted to make this film in 3D, and they give in to absoluteley every little desire you could have from a movie like this: from naked girls swimming in 3D to projectile vomiting to svered body parts popping out at you, the movie is so wrong on so many levels that it ends up being absolutely perfect for what it is - a cheesy splatterfest set during spring break, and everything that goes along with it.

The final bloodbath scenes are like a horror version of the beach scenes at Normandy in "Saving Private Ryan", only everyone's in bathing suits as the water turns a deep red.

This movie is not for the squamish, but if you are someone who enjoys a fun, over-the-top horror movie you won't be disappointed.

MOVIES from S-2

"THE EXPENDABLES" GRADE: ***

Sylvester Stallone's latest film is nothing more than pure joy for anyone who grew up watching over-the-top violent action movies in the 1980s.

Stallone has assembled a who's who of has been 80's action heroes, and paired them with some current ones, and the result easily the action film of the summer. It's certainly not going to win any awards, but it will bring a smile to your face if you watched any of these stars back in the day.

Stallone plays Barney Ross, who leads a team of mercenaries on a mission in South America where they must overthrow General Giza (David Zayas), a ruthless dictator. The team includes Lee Christmas (Jason Statham), Toll Road (Randy Couture), Yin Yang (Jet Li) and Hale Caesar (Terry Crews). Another team member, Gunnar Jensen (Dolph Lundgren) stays behind while the rest of his team goes to combat.

Tool (Mickey Rourke) used to be part of the team and now works as a tattoo artist.

Upon arriving in South America, they try to defeat another set of bad guys: James Monroe (Eric Roberts), a CIA agent who has gone rogue, and his tough sidekick, Paine (Stone Cold Steve Austin).

Stallone knows what action fans want, and keeps the pace moving while loading the film up with plenty of explosions, gun fire and well-choreographed fights that provide an incredible rush of adrenaline.

Suspension of disbelief is a must in order to enjoy this kind of mindless entertainment.

This movie has all the makings of a new franchise. Standout performances include Statham as the blade-wielding wise guy.

Li as an aging martial artist with "little man's syndrome", and Lundgren as a drug-addicted assassin with questionable loyalty.

Leave your brain at home, and sit back and watch some masters at their craft - at least when that craft involves blowing things up.

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY

TRIVIA: Who was the first former Major League Baseball player to play in Japan? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

For the second week in a row, SENIOR FORWARD SAMMY MACY (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) was named Northeast-10 Conference Player of the Week, as announced by the conference office on Monday.

She tallied a hat trick in the squad's lone game of the week and became the program's all-time leading scorer. Macy notched three goals in the No. 3 River Hawks' 5-1 victory over Southern Connecticut, played in New Haven on Friday evening.

Her six point performance brought her career total to 162 points (69g, 24a), making her the all-time leading scorer in program history, surpassing Sara Hohenberger's previous record of 158 points.

Thus far this season, the senior tri-captain has already amassed 18 points (8g, 2a) and currently leads the NE-10 in shots per game (10.0), points and PPG (4.5), goals and GPG (2.0).

Macy, the defending NE-10 Player of the Year, is the daughter of Doug and Mary Macy of Tewksbury, Mass.

Not to be overlooked, the River Hawk defense has also allowed just one goal through four games this season. In the most recent game, the squad let up the lone goal of the year and outshot the Owls 32-3 in the game.

The defensive corps was led by sophomore Sarah Wilcox (Old Town, Maine), who anchored the defenders in the victory. They let only one shot reach the cage and held Southern Connecticut to just three penalty corner opportunities, compared to their own eight-corner evening.

Senior F Kirstie St. Martin (Providence, R.I.) scored the lone goal on a breakaway in the 66th minute to lead Stonehill College over UMass Lowell, 1-0, Wednesday night in a Northeast-10 Conference women's soccer clash at Cushing Field.

The loss was the second straight for the River Hawks, who slipped to 1-3-1 overall and 0-2-0 in the NE-10 entering Saturday's match at Adelphi (12:00).

Stonehill improved to 4-2-0 overall and 3-1-0 in the NE-10 and hosts Pace University Saturday at 2:00.

Junior M Kelsey Mahoney (Rehoboth, Mass.) set up the winner when she sent a volley over the UMass Lowell defense to enable St. Martin to beat the offside trap and go in alone on freshman GK Micaela Butlin (Milton, Mass.). St. Martin rounded the Charging Butlin and slotted into an empty net from the right side.

The goal came against the run of play as the River Hawks had two attempts to go ahead in the minutes prior. In the 61st minute, junior M Maddy Bissailon (Merrimac, Mass.) uncorked a blast from 30 yards out headed for the top right corner, but junior GK Sarah Hickey was well prepared.

Three minutes later, Bissailon sent a cross from the right flank to SENIOR D ELLA MERULLO (WAKEFIELD, MASS.), whose header drew a diving save from Hickey.

Sophomore M Amy Cramer (Marlboro, Mass.) had UMass Lowell's best chance in the first half when her blast from 25 yards out soared toward the top right corner, but Hickey anticipated well.

The River Hawks enjoyed a 16-5 advantage on shots (8-3 on target) as well as an 8-1 edge on corner kicks. Butlin had two saves while Hickey stopped eight shots.

Need some help with this week's question? His initials are P.P.

JUNIOR F MOHAMMED SAEED (WOBURN, MASS.) scored the winner in the 51st minute and freshman GK Chris Maierle (Wantagh, N.Y.) earned his first collegiate clean sheet as UMass Lowell defeated the University of Bridgeport, 1-0, Saturday in a non-conference men's soccer clash at Cushing Field.

With the win, UMass Lowell improved to 1-2-0 overall and opens Northeast-10 Conference play Tuesday night when it hosts No. 14 Franklin Pierce College at 7:00. UB slipped to 2-2 overall and visits Bentley Wednesday at 3:00.

The goal came as the River Hawks applied the pressure in the early minutes of the second half. SENIOR F STEPHEN POTCNER (WILMINGTON, MASS.) nearly gave UMass Lowell the lead a minute before when his header from junior D Charlie Ober (Atkinson, N.H.) went over the bar.

Bridgeport found its groove around the hour mark and nearly capitalized on a series of chances. In the 65th, freshman F Markus Naglestad (Kristiansand, Norway) touched nicely off a cross from the left side, only to see it go over the bar. Two minutes later, the Purple Knights thought they had leveled when senior M Nick Smith (Waterville, OH) headed home a cross from the left side, but Maierle was ruled to have been taken down on the play.

In the 69th minute, Maierle was called into action again when junior M Josh Pellegrini (Vineland, N.J.) broke free down the left, only to see the sprawling freshman thwart the attempt.

UMass Lowell nearly doubled its lead in the 88th when Candido crossed to sophomore M Ryan McLeod (Haverhill, Mass.) who settled nicely on the left of the six-yard box and sidefooted only for senior GK Milos Suljagic (Belgrade, Serbia) to snuff the attempt.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Phil Paine, who made his major league debut with the Boston Braves in 1951, pitched 9 games with the Nishitetsu Lions in Nippon Professional Baseball in 1953. He came back to the states to play with the Milwaukee Braves (1954-1957) and the St. Louis Cardinals (1958).

(26) and a season (nine).

"Patrice was extremely athletic and unconventional, especially when it came to her size (5 feet)," Hleibichuk noted. "But that is what made her outstanding. What she lacked in size, she made up with her passion and intensity. She was an inspirational leader while she was here as well."

Mendoza was also the recipient of many plaudits during her career. She was named a two-time All-American by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA), earning first team honors as a senior and second team as a junior.

She was also named the NE-10 Goalkeeper of the Year and first team member both years. At UMass Lowell's 2003 Excellence Awards Banquet, she was named the recipient of the Lester H. Cushing Award for Female Athlete of the Year.

Mendoza graduated in 2003 with a degree in health education. She is currently the operations and merchandise manager of Bed, Bath & Beyond in Phoenix, AZ, where she resides.

DONNA MILLS (SOFTBALL 1993-96)

Undoubtedly one of the greatest softball players in school history, Donna Mills compiled astronomical numbers during her career, many of which continue to rank as school records and among the program's career leaders.

Over the course of her career, Mills (a native of Lynnfield) set 21 school records, 16 of which still stand today, including batting average in a career (.438) and a season (.471); slugging percentage in a career (.721) and a season (.829); runs in a career (148) and season (62) as well as hits in a season (75) and doubles in a career (57) and season (23).

She also set career marks such as hits (221), triples (17), singles (130), home runs (17) and RBI (126) that have since been eclipsed.

Mills collected her share of honors, including New England Collegiate Conference all-star status - Second Team in 1994 and 1995; First Team in 1996 - as well as ECAC Division II North honors in 1996.

She enjoyed her best years as a junior and senior, in which she ranked among NCAA Division II leaders. In 1995, she sat among national leaders in doubles (18, 13th), runs scored (62, 13th) and triples (eight, 17th). As a senior she was third among Division II doubles leaders (23) and 23rd in batting (.469).

"Certainly, Donna's abilities speak for themselves," said former softball coach Harry Sauter (1995-2009), who coached Mills her final two years. "Donna was a great, great ball player who went on to play baseball at the highest possible level. She was a great hitter who certainly understood the fundamentals of hitting."

"In those days, she was the team," Sauter added. "She was probably one of the best athletes that we had ever recruited."

For all that Mills achieved as a softball player, her real passion was always baseball. In 2006, she was named the Most Valuable Player of the Women's World Cup of Baseball in Taipei City, Taiwan, leading the U.S. to the gold medal. Along the way, she led all players with 13 RBI and was also named to All-Tournament Team as the top third baseman.

Mills was also a member of the 2004 U.S. squad which captured the gold and the 2008 team which won the bronze.

Mills is a court officer in the Lynn District Court. She resides in Lynn, Mass., with her daughter Gianna Marie, born Aug. 9, 2010.

KATIE TOOMEY (VOLLEYBALL, 1995-98)

At a time when colleges like the University of New Haven and Stony Brook ruled the volleyball ranks of the New England Collegiate Conference, it speaks volumes that Katie Toomey was twice voted the NECC Player of the Year.

"I think that's a rarity," said UML Head Coach Karen McNulty. "It was just a case in that Katie was so dominant, that she couldn't not be recognized. She was my first big recruit. We're lucky that she stayed local. She would've been a fine small college Division I player."

UMass Lowell's most decorated player, Toomey was voted to the NECC All-Conference First Team all four years. She was named the NECC Rookie of the Year in 1995 and the Player of the Year in 1997 and 1998.

Toomey is the third-ever volleyball player to be inducted into the UMass Lowell Athletic Hall of Fame. She joins Susan MacDonald ('89), inducted in 1996, and Michelle Roy ('91), inducted in 2003.

During Toomey's era, UMass Lowell posted a four-year clip of 84-67, which included a 25-7 showing in 1996 which saw the River Hawks place second in the NECC and advance to the ECAC Tournament semifinal round. UMass Lowell was also the NECC runner-up in 1997.

Toomey left the program with a plethora of career records, including games played (480), kills (1,897) and career hitting percentage (.337). She also held the career mark for digs (1,260), which has since been surpassed.

"Katie was a finesse player who was flashy and exciting and her attacking made you take notice," McNulty noted. "She was extremely fit - that was one of the things that made her a great player. She served well, she played the back row."

"I remember she had some back issues when she was here and she played right through them," she added.

Toomey graduated in 1999 with a degree in business administration. She currently works as a production assistant at Comcast SportsNet in Burlington, Mass.

She lives in Waltham.

Members of the Class of 2010 will be inducted in ceremonies on Saturday, Oct. 23 and Saturday, Nov. 6 at the Tsongas Center prior to hockey games against Northeastern (7 p.m.) and New Hampshire (7 p.m.).

After a reception at 3:30 in the Tsongas Sports Pavilion, the induction ceremony will be held from 4:15-5:30, followed by photos and unveiling of the Hall of Fame Sports Gallery.

The Oct. 23 ceremony will honor Katie Toomey, Donna Mills, Billy Rizzo and Nate Linstad while Christian Sbrocca, Denise Legault, Claire Chamberlain, Patrice Mendoza, Diane DiRoma and Jonathan Curran will be recognized on Nov. 6.

What's Olde is new again this weekend 53rd Annual Ye Olde Redding Faire returns

READING - As the town of Reading celebrates the success of its second annual Reading Street Faire recently, Reading area residents are looking for other free, family-friendly festivities to do this fall.

If you are among them, look no further than the First Congregational Church at 25 Woburn Street, which is gearing up to host its 53rd annual Ye Olde Redding Faire on Friday, September 24th from 5-9pm and Saturday, September 25th from 10am - 2:30pm. The Faire is a town tradition that offers something for people of all ages. As one of the area's oldest and largest church-sponsored fairs of the season, it attracts customers from towns along the North Shore and throughout the state.

In this economy folks are looking for bargains that can stretch the family dollar, and there are plenty of opportunities to be found at the Faire. From furniture to home goods, toys to fine items like china, glassware, and jewelry, the Faire sells it all - and at ridiculously low prices. Take, for example, the "Fine White Elephant" room, which culls the most valuable donated items into a boutique-like setting. Organizers search ebay for comparable items and then cut those online prices in half for the Faire customers. "Our goal is that everyone would find something fun, or something that they always wanted, but at an affordable price so they can get more for their money. I've heard of folks who come to the Faire, find a bargain item, and re-sell it on ebay for more than they paid here, and that's great!" says the church's Music Minister Chad Kidd; "We just want people to enjoy themselves and go home with something special."

Among other crowd-pleasing favorites, the Faire also features a variety of homemade food to enjoy, like lobster rolls, Ms. Steele's famous fried dough, baked goods and fudge. The

Friday night traditional Roast Beef Supper, which features a "sweet" ending of homemade apple pie for dessert, is moving to only one 6:30pm seating. This seating will most certainly sell out, so if you would like reservations, please call 781-944-2836 right away to make them. The cost for the all-you-care-to-eat dinner is just $10 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under. Families who aren't able to make reservations for the seated dinner will still be able to purchase a delicious roast beef sandwich at the "Beefstro," the sandwich counter bistro taking place after the seated dinner has ended. And this year's Deli Counter will include fancy cake-by-the-slice options and coffee - a perfect after (or before!) dinner treat.

Attendees of the Faire will notice how the downstairs of the church is transformed into a "country marketplace" replete with a bandstand featuring local talent—including, a magician, puppet show and guitar trio. The country marketplace features a traditional New England farmstand as well as crafts, the deli counter, candy shop, and "book nook" for those looking to stock up on things to read by the fire on chilly autumn nights. Books for children are especially popular, and parents can get junior plenty of new reading materials at fantastic prices.

In fact, the entire Faire is kid-friendly and geared toward families. "[The Faire] is a great outing for families," said Brian Tucker, one of the four "Faire Chairs" who oversee the event; "kids can go a long way in the toy room or candy shop with just a little allowance money, and parents can enjoy bargain hunting for home goods, or grabbing a bite to eat together at the Picnic Basket - I especially recommend the homemade lobster rolls and clam chowder." The Faire expands its festivities on Saturday morning to include the Kids Carnival Midway on Sanborn Street, which is always a big draw and features a giant inflatable bounce house, face painting, and carnival games for kids of any age. To add to the fun atmosphere, the Reading Civic Concert Band will offer a special free concert on Friday Evening at 7:30 pm.

This is an event not to be missed! The Faire is held rain or shine, and admission is always FREE OF CHARGE. All proceeds from the Faire benefit the outreach and ministry of the congregation, so buyers know that their purchases go to support a good cause.

Come spend a day of food and family fun at the First Congregational Church of Reading, 25 Woburn Street, Reading. For directions or more information, go to www.churchofreading.org.

Meet Collin

Hi! My name is Collin. I love taking part in physical activities and I enjoy reading and re-reading Harry Potter books.

Collin, 12, is a child of Caucasian descent who is very bright and has good insight. Collin is friendly and animated and enjoys watching Sponge-Bob, playing video games, and playing sports, especially baseball and basketball. He is a New York Yankees fan and enjoys eating "really hot" Buffalo wings. He also likes listening to rap music on his iPod.

Collin has a great attitude towards school and always completes his work, although he does need support. He currently benefits from an Individual Education Plan and is a strong visual and hands-on learner. Collin is legally free and his social worker is looking for a family with no children or older children. He benefits from structure, consistency, and clear expectations. He needs a family that is willing to maintain contacts he is close to, including his sister. His very special wish is to have a family that accepts him and spends time with him doing things.

What is MAPP Training?

Part of the process to adopt a child from foster care is a training course. After an initial home visit by a social worker, you may be inited to attend the Massachusetts Approach to Partnerships in Parenting (MAPP) training. The 32-hour MAPP course is typically held one night per week for eight weeks. MAPP training is designed to help you gain the best possible understanding of, and preparation for, parenting an adopted child.

To learn more about Collin, and about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

formers not yet presented by who are nationally known. This is a non-profit organization run by professional volunteers, with support in part from the Mass. Cultural Council, Wakefield chapter.

The audience ranges from the young to the elderly who enjoy the intimate and friendly atmosphere of the concerts. The first show is special and would appeal to families with upper elementary, middle schoolers, and HS. A discount will be given to that population.

WAKEFIELD CHORAL SOCIETY REHEARSALS

HATHA YOGA MEDITATION CLASSES

Hatha Yoga is combination of the 6,000 year old ancient Hatha Yoga practice with modern and simple flowing movements and breathing. This practice integrates the means of achieving mind and body health. It is an excellent method of getting fit and managing stress. In this class you will practice yoga postures, stretching, deep breathing and relaxation.

The class will end with a guided meditation. Learn how yoga and meditation benefit your body, mind and spirit. The class is appropriate for all ages and levels.

Classes are held at the Woodville School, Wakefield in the cafeteria on Mondays and Wednesdays, 6:30 - 7:30 p.m.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY FRANCINE ZASLOW

A series of Francine Zaslow's photographs, Food Cycles, is featured at the Griffin Museum at Digital Silver Imaging in Belmont through November 12. An opening reception is September 16 from 6-8 p.m.

In her commercial and fine art work Zaslow has often photographed food. Zaslow sees food as a cycle of life and death. She says her images look at food such as pigs feet and sardines unblinkingly. "Their death gives us life. Their impossibly elegant photographic form also gives our imagination life. And they remind us without words of the potent inevitability of our own passing," says Zaslow.

"In 14 weeks I've lost 20 pounds!"

Since joining I'm down 2 sizes. I've been struggling with weight gain for 10 years and this has been the only program that has motivated me to put 100% into my goals. The trainers are great and help me stay on track.

IN THIS AUG. 16, 2010 PHOTO, CARPENTERS WORK ON NEW HOUSES in Whitehouse, N.J. Sales of new homes fell 12.4 percent to an annual rate of 276,000 last month, the lowest on record. The news comes a day after another report showed previously occupied homes fell to their lowest level in 15 years. (AP Photo/Mark Lennihan)

Home construction jumps 10.5 pct in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home construction increased last month and applications for building permits also grew. The gains were driven mainly by apartment and condominium construction, not the much larger single-family homes sector.

Construction of new homes and apartments rose 10.5 percent in August from a month earlier to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 598,000, the Commerce Department said Tuesday. That's the highest level since April.

Pulling the figures up was a 32 percent monthly increase in the condominium and apartment market, a small portion of the market. Single-family homes, which represented about 73 percent of the market in August, grew more than 4 percent.

Housing starts are up 25 percent from their bottom in April 2009. But they remain 74 percent below their peak in January 2006. Single-family housing starts are up 11 percent from their low point in January 2009, but down 78 percent from their peak in January 2006.

Builders are struggling with weak demand for new homes caused by high unemployment and a glut of foreclosed homes on the market. They benefited in the spring from federal tax credits, but those expired in April.

Paul Dales, U.S. economist with Capital Economics, said the high number of vacant homes, mounting expectations of renewed price falls and economic constraints on households will continue to weigh on the industry.

"Homebuilding activity remains at an astoundingly weak level," Dales said, adding that construction has to be more than double current levels for the market to be considered healthy.

Building permit applications, a sign of future activity, grew by nearly 2 percent to an annual rate of 569,000.

Lennar Corp., a major builder based in Miami, said Monday the number of buyers signing agreements to purchase its homes fell 15 percent from a year ago in the three months ended August 31.

"It's been a tough summer," said Stuart Miller, Lennar's chief executive, on a conference call with investors Monday. "As we've gone into September, we're seeing a little bit of pickup in our traffic, but that shouldn't be cause to have a sigh of relief at this point."

Construction activity rose 34 percent in the West and was up 22 percent in the Midwest and 7 percent in the South. However, construction fell by 24 percent in the Northeast.

On Monday, the National Association of Home Builders said its monthly index of builders' sentiment was unchanged in September at 13. The index has now been at the lowest level since March 2009 for two straight months.

Bright open spaces distinguish the Lander

By Associated Designs

The Lander is a midsize contemporary home with a window-bright cluster of large, open gathering spaces filling the entire left side. Designed for construction on land that slopes to the rear, this single-level plan can easily be adapted for construction on a flat lot as well.

Entering, you step into a vaulted entry which opens into a vaulted dining room and living room. A wide bay window expands the sense of spaciousness in the dining room, while more windows and a glass door offer views of the landscape behind the house.

No matter where you are in the kitchen, you can keep tabs on activities inside and out. Corner windows in front of the sink allow you to look out over the street. Working at the counters or range, you can observe and interact with family or friends in the dining room or living room. The eating bar also serves to keep folks who just want to chat out of the way of the cooks.

The Lander's dining room has a built-in hutch and buffet. In the living room, a direct-vent gas fireplace provides warmth and color.

Alternately, the home could be built with a fireplace that burns wood and has a chimney. Bookcases are on one side and a home entertainment center is on the other. If a home office is needed, the front bedroom is an excellent location.

Owners' suite amenities include a deep walk-in closet and a private bathroom with a double vanity. Laundry appliances are nearby in a utility room outfitted with plenty of cupboard space, shelves and a handy counter for folding clothes and linens.

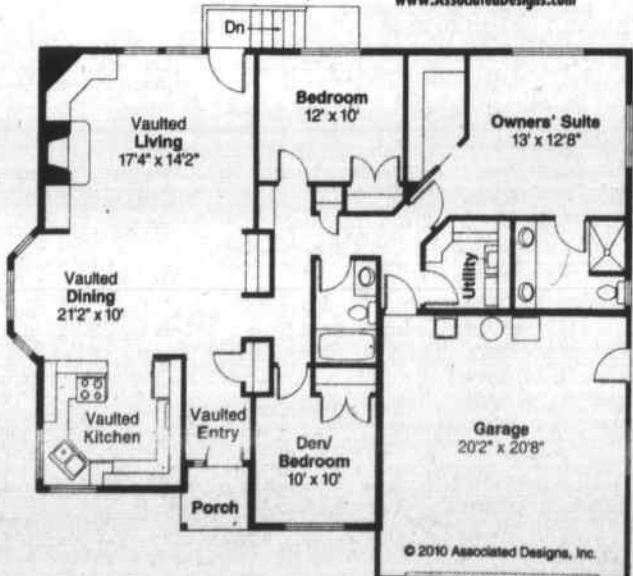

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $25 to Associated Designs, 1100 Jacobs Dr., Eugene, OR 97402. Please specify the Lander 30-225 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring more than 550 home plans is available for $15. For more information call (800) 634-0123, or visit our website at www.AssociatedDesigns.com.
